

AMERICAN CONSUL SAYS LOSS IS $2,000,000

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY IS VERY GREAT

LIBRARY OF U. S.
GONE, BUT THE RECORDS ARE SAVED.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The State Department today received the following message from W. F. Doty, American Consul at Tahiti, dated February 17th and sent by way of San Francisco:

"Cyclone destroyed the consulate February 8th. Records saved but damaged; library, stationery and consular forms lost. Governor solicits subscriptions. Estimated loss in French Oceania $2,000,000."

The State Department may find some difficulty in re-establishing the consulate at Tahiti, which is the most important port in that quarter of the world, owing to the failure of Congress to allow the appropriation of $30,000 sought to be included in the urgent deficiency appropriation bill to provide against such emergencies as this.

PARIS, March 5.—Minister of the Colonies Clementel has received a cable message confirming the press reports that the French establishment in Oceania was devastated by a tornado and tidal wave February 7 and 8.

Tahiti was particularly affected. Three hundred and twenty-seven houses at Papeete were destroyed. Two relief ships sent to the scene of the disaster from Tuamotu Islands have not returned.

The Governor of the colony has asked for aid.

MORE NICKELS ARE NEEDED

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The House today passed a bill increasing from $50,000 to $200,000 the amount of the purchase of metals for pennies and nickels and providing that these coins shall be made in the Denver, San Francisco, New Orleans and Philadelphia mints instead of as now, exclusively in the Philadelphia mint.

LONGWORTH AT HIS DESK

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Representative Longworth of Ohio returned to his duties in the House today. He brought with him to the Capitol and presented to Speaker Cannon in his room a Havana cigar at least eighteen inches long, a product of Havana, Cuba.

TO EMBRACE A NEW FAITH

PARIS, March 5.—Princess Ena of Battenburg, the future wife of King Alfonso of Spain, will be received into the Roman Catholic Church Wednesday at San Sebastian, Spain. King Edward will accompany Princess Ena from Biarritz to San Sebastian.

ELECTIONS TO BE HELD IN RUSSIA

ST. PETERSBURG, March 5.—An imperial ukase issued today orders the elections to the National Assembly to begin April 8th in twenty-eight provinces of central Russia, on April 27th in sixteen other provinces of central Russia, and the Don regions, and in two other provinces on May 3d.

WOMAN ARRESTED 300 TIMES, ATTEMPTS SUICIDE 22 TIMES, AGAIN THREATENS HER LIFE

Margaret Smith, arrested on a charge of drunkenness for the three hundredth time, was arraigned before Police Judge Smith this morning and was sentenced to serve fifty days in jail.

After the sentence was pronounced the woman dramatically declared that she would never serve her sentence. "Your honor," she said, "if I had a bottle of poison here I would end it all. I would drink it gladly. I should not be sent to jail for so long a time. I will kill myself."

The fact that the defendant has attempted to commit suicide on twenty-two different occasions while confined within the city prison lends probability to her statement that she will end her life.

She has made genuine attempts on her life but at each time by a fortunate circumstance she was discovered in time and revived.

Hanging, suffocation, poison, all have been tried in vain by the woman. She is an educated person but has been a victim of the liquor habit so long that there seems to be no hope for her and jail is apparently the only place where she cannot get drunk.

Her threat had the effect of making the jailers place a death watch on her to prevent her carrying out her threat.

PEACEFUL WOMAN ASSERTS THAT THIS AGED MINISTER SWORE IN HER PRESENCE

Rev. W. P. Teltworth, a former minister, living at 224 Twelfth street, has had charges preferred against him by Mrs. Alice Unanue of 2108 Peralta avenue, who told Justice of the Peace Henry this morning that the aged divine had used language to her such as a minister of the gospel is not supposed to use, and that in his frenzy he broke in her front door and demanded $2 she had promised to pay him for the Fruitvale Methodist Church. She declared her peace had been disturbed and she was given a warrant for the arrest of Teltworth.

REFUSED MONEY.
According to the story as related by Mrs. Unanue, she had promised Teltworth to pay him $2 towards a library fund of the Methodist Church, for which he said he was collecting. If he would return on the first of the month. He returned last Saturday, but in the meantime she had talked with her husband, who told her that there were so many fakes going about the country that she had better pay the money at the church herself, so that when Teltworth came to call for the money a few days later she refused to give him the money.

Teltworth is an old man nearly seventy years of age, and it is charged he forgot his early training and gave way to a volley of oaths and water front billingsgate that would have done credit to a boss stevedore. His rage knew no bounds and he shoved his shoulder against the door which had been closed upon him and broke in the fastening and demanded the $2.

At this juncture, E. B. Hunt, a collector of the Contra Costa Water Company, came up and heard the latter part of the quarrel and took the old man away from the premises.

Mrs. Unanue was very much incensed over her treatment and lost no time, as soon as she could find the justice this morning, in swearing to a warrant for his arrest.

MEETING FOR FIRST TIME AT ALTAR, THIS COUPLE MARRY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—N. Mitushita, a Japanese florist of 1549 Dwight way, Berkeley, who is prolific of diamonds, fine clothes and other evidences of prosperity, was married today to a girl from the land of the chrysanthemum whom he had never seen until they stood at the altar.

Mitushita sent a photograph of himself by K. O. Ogino to Japan, on September 2d with instructions to find him a bride. Ogino went to the province of Hida, where the prettiest Japanese girls are said to grow, and soon found a helpmeet for his friend. She arrived on the steamer Manchuria on February 21, but has been retained by the immigration inspectors until today because of a suspicion that the disease trachoma lurked in her eyes. Mitushita has been haunting the office of the inspectors all this time with misery in his countenance and despair depicted in his bearing, as he feared that his promised bride would be sent back to Japan.

The wedding took place in the Japanese mission.

TO CONSIDER COAL SITUATION

PRESIDENT GOMPERS CALLS A MEETING OF EXECUTIVE COUNCIL.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has called a meeting of the executive council here March 19th. The matters to be discussed have not been disclosed, but the fact that President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, who is a member of the council, will be present, leads color to the belief that the coal situation will be considered. President Gompers has gone to Philadelphia and New York on matters connected with the organization.

RURAL DELIVERY A SUCCESS

REPORT SHOWS THAT SPLENDID PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The operations of the rural free delivery service up to March 1, 1906, are shown in a statement issued today by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw.

Up to that time 52,275 petitions had been received and referred. Of these 13,772 were acted upon adversely.

The number of routes in operation March 1 was 35,031, leaving 3424 petitions still pending, of which 294 have been assigned for establishment.

In connection with these figures the statement is made that, notwithstanding the development of the service, there is an unexpended balance on hand to the credit of new establishments of $905,106 from the appropriation of $2,378,696 which became available July 1, 1905.

OPERA HOUSE IN DES MOINES BURNED

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 5.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Grand Opera House and did $25,000 damage to the observatory building here early today. The total loss will aggregate $80,000, partially insured. The effects of an opera troupe were totally destroyed.

WEBB JR. IS GRANTED A NEW TRIAL

COURT DECLARES CHARGE ISN'T SUPPORTED BY EVIDENCE.

A new trial was granted A. C. Webb Jr., of Alameda, this morning by Judge Ogden, who held in a lengthy written opinion by him that the verdict of guilty returned by the jury, charging Webb with having assaulted Florence Cook, a thirteen-year-old girl, was not supported by the evidence given at the trial of the case.

The affair attracted widespread attention in Alameda, where it was claimed the girl had been kept a prisoner by a number of the wealthy members of a club, and an investigation of the matter finally led to the girl making a charge that young Webb had been one of her assailants, but did not place the alleged assault at the Alameda Boat Club house, but at the home of Mrs. J. H. Tingman, with whom the girl was living at that time.

FOUND GUILTY.

Webb was tried on the charge, being represented by Attorney A. L. Frick and Fred St. Sure, and when the verdict was returned Judge Ogden expressed himself to the effect that he was of the opinion that the evidence did not warrant the verdict. The motion for a new trial was argued before him last Saturday, and he rendered his opinion this morning, a part of which is as follows:

"The recollection of the prosecution is very vague as to what was said immediately following the meeting with Webb at the Tingman house, but she remembers that Webb tried to unlock the house with his key, and failed; that he asked if she was home, and was told by Florence that no one was home."

MINISTER IS MAKING WAR ON SMOKING AND GAMBLING CAUSES ARREST OF TWO CIGAR DEALERS

Here is a picture of William Zingg's place in Alameda where Rev. P. C. Macfarlane alleged bets are taken on horse races and cigarettes sold to persons in violation of the law. The upper photograph is that of Chief of Police Conrad, of Alameda, and the lower picture is that of City Trustee Fritz Boehmer, the latter of whom was scored by Rev. Macfarlane from his pulpit last night. William Zingg is seen standing in the doorway of his store.

True to his word spoken from the pulpit last evening, Rev. P. C. Macfarlane, of the Alameda Christian Church, this morning had warrants issued for the arrest of William Zingg and John Rew, on charges of making books on the races, and selling cigarettes in violation of city ordinances. The pastor went to City Justice Tappan's office, accompanied by E. G. Butler and Charles M. Ally, two young men who secured evidence against the cigar stores of Zingg and Rew. The complaints were sworn to by Butler. There were four charges against Zingg. Two were for selling cigarettes on March 2, one for accepting a bet on a horserace March 1, and one for placing a bet on a horserace March 2. Against Rew there was a charge of accepting a bet March 2, and another for selling cigarettes on the same day. While discussing the Zingg charges, Judge Tappan remarked to the minister that Zingg had called in his office this morning to speak of the matter, to which Rev. Macfarlane replied with meaning in his voice: "Perhaps you would like to see Mr. Rew, too, before you issue a warrant for him." "There is no need for any sarcasm," retorted Judge Tappan. "I probably know how to run my court as well as you know how to run your pulpit." The warrants were issued and given to Chief of Police Conrad for service. Judge Tappan said that he would require $50 bonds on each charge and would give the accused men a hearing at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Rev. Macfarlane made no complaint this morning against City Trustee Fritz Boehmer, whom he said in his pulpit was culpable because he owns the building in which Zingg's store is located. Trustee Boehmer said this morning that he was not apprehensive of any serious consequences. There are other matters more serious than this for Alameda's attention," he declared. "We have a fine town here, and it will go ahead if there is no interference—from the ministers or anyone else."

Zingg and Rew, tell practically the same story. They say they have accepted commissions to bet on certain horses, and have placed them at the Emeryville track, which is not illegal. They admit having sold cigarettes from their stores, but it is uncertain whether they will plead guilty to the latter charge or attack the constitutionality of the Alameda anti-cigarette ordinance. Chief Conrad says the two stores, as well as others, have been watched by the police for cigarette selling, but no positive evidence secured. "If they have been violating the law, I hope they get the limit," said the chief.

SENATOR SIMPSON VISITS DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Senator M. W. Simpson, city attorney of Alameda, had an interview with District Attorney Allen this morning, but no definite conclusion was arrived at in regard to the charges made against him by Miss Isabelle Davis, a stenographer, who accuses him of having misled her under a promise of marriage. In regard to his conversation with Simpson, District Attorney Allen said: "I do not know what I shall do in the matter until the other people come back. Senator Simpson has told me that if he had made any promises to

THIS VETERAN OF WARS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Franz Grusginsky, chief engineer of the Russian battleship Radovic, which was sunk by the Japanese in the late war, is being detained by the immigration inspectors. He arrived from Manila on the transport Buford. It is alleged that he is without funds and is apt to become a public charge if permitted to land. Grusginsky made a hero of himself by remaining in the engine room of the Radovic until he stood in water up to his neck. When he returned to Russia he was persecuted by his countrymen until he finally made his escape to China and then to Manila. He has any number of medals for his bravery. He obtained the sympathy of the officers of the Buford by showing them that he could handle an engine on the way over, and they promised to secure him a position at once if he is permitted to land.

ALAMEDA, March 5.—From the pulpit of the Christian Church last evening Rev. P. C. Macfarlane, the pastor, declared the police of this city to be either corrupt or incompetent.

Indirectly he asserted that City Trustee Boehmer was punishable for the violation of a State law and a city ordinance for leasing to William Zingg property where gambling was carried on. He declared in no uncertain tones that bets were taken on horse races in violation of law, that cigarettes were sold openly, breaking a city ordinance.

HILL BLOCKS IMPROVEMENT OF DAVIS STREET

Supervisors Fear Damages Should Thoroughfare Be Graded as Business Men Request.

There seems to be no chance for granting the request of the business men of Fruitvale and that vicinity for the grading of a certain part of Davis street to enable them to reach their customers in delivering orders.

At the meeting of the Supervisors this morning Supervisor Talcott, who has had charge of the improvement of the thoroughfare, stated that he was confronted with two obstacles. One of these was the great expense which would be incurred in cutting down the hill to bring the street to grade, and the other was the danger of having to pay damages for injury to abutting property if the proposed grade should be established. He would not, he said, feel like doing anything in the matter unless he had the written consent of all the property owners on the thoroughfare.

After some discussion, the subject was left in the hands of the Supervisor in question.

THE REQUEST.

The desire of the business men in question is set forth in the following: "We, the undersigned being residents and merchants of Alameda county, State of California, and doing business therein, state to your honorable body that we have a certain part of Davis street, between Fruitvale and Perilla avenues in Fruitvale Alameda county, is in an impassable condition in its present state."

ABOUT TELEPHONE RATES

SUPERVISORS ASK IF COMPANY HAS FRANCHISE IN THE COUNTY.

The Supervisors, this morning, instructed the District Attorney to advise them, at his earliest opportunity, as to whether or not the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company has a franchise to do business in this county. This action was suggested by Supervisor Rowe, and was enlarged upon by a suggestion from Supervisor Kelley, that the District Attorney also report as to whether the Board of Supervisors has authority to regulate the amount which shall be charged for the rent of telephones.

Both suggestions were ordered forwarded to District Attorney Allen.

FRUITVALE PROTEST.

Charles Leydecker, editor and proprietor of the Fruitvale Progress, brought the subject to the attention of the Board. He spoke with considerable animation. "The telephone company," said Leydecker, "when it first made application for a franchise, announced that it would give the use of residence telephones for 75 cents a month. "That is a last for while and then they began to charge $1.50 per month. There was no objection to this raise made by the Supervisors. Now, they propose to charge $2 per month, and the $1.50 telephones must be taken out. I ask, is there nothing in the franchise which will protect the people? It is my duty to have this thing done, placing us at the mercy of this corporation. If the railroad company gives a fare to San Francisco, under a franchise, can it increase that fare to fifteen cents? In a short time, Home Telephone company will come along and perhaps do the same thing."

QUESTION OF FRANCHISE.

"I am here simply to ask this board if there is anything in this telephone franchise which will prevent the people from being robbed?" "I understand," said Supervisor Talcott, "that they are putting the wires underground."

"I don't think," said Mr. Leydecker, "that the putting of the system underground has anything to do with these charges."

"Does anybody know whether or not the telephone company has a franchise?" asked Supervisor Talcott. "I don't know," answered Supervisor Rowe. "The telephone company was there before we came on this Board. I move that the District Attorney be instructed to look the matter up, and ascertain whether the telephone company has a franchise in the county as well as the city."

"And," said Supervisor Kelley, continuing the thought of Supervisor Rowe, "that the District Attorney also report whether the Supervisors have power to regulate telephone rates or rents."

"You regulate gas and water rates," said Mr. Leydecker, "and why don't you regulate telephone rates, which are the most outrageous rates of all?"

INSPECT WATER COMPANY'S PLANT

CITY ATTORNEY McLEROY AND ENGINEER DOCKWEILER PREPARE FOR SUIT.

On Wednesday City Attorney McLeRoy and Engineer Dockweiler, expert for the city of Oakland in the forthcoming water rate suit, will be escorted about the various properties of the Contra Costa Water Company by the representatives of the company. Engineer Dockweiler wishes to familiarize himself thoroughly with the property so that he may pass expert judgment on the value of the plant when the matter comes before the United States Circuit Court.

It is probable that Engineer Dockweiler will also testify before the City Council against the fixing of the water rates for the next fiscal year.

Congratulations

There is a bitter war on between two great railroad corporations for privileges on Oakland's water front.

Eventually, by referring to deeds, grants and maps, the courts will decide as to which corporation is in the right.

Think of the loss and injury that might occur if such important documents were lost.

If you have a deed, a will, a mortgage or any paper of great value, how about it? Is it lying around your office or your home subject to danger from fire, a careless janitor, mice, etc? Or are they in our safe deposit vaults? You can rent an individual box in our vaults, with all the usual privileges, for four dollars a year.

DECLARES THE LAWS ARE NOT ENFORCED

REV. P. C. MACFARLANE OF ALAMEDA.

Rev. P. C. Macfarlane of Alameda Asserts That Officials Are Lax.

and that the police must either be cognizant of these facts or blind.

"TAINTED MONEY."

With dramatic effect he held over his head a small bag of silver from which the merry tinkle of the coins struck the ears of his listeners, while he placed the coin in evidence before them.

Two packages of cigarettes, sold to a young man, whom the minister had requested to purchase them, were held high in air, while the pastor quoted the city law against the selling of made cigarettes.

The two packages were marked with the initials of the proprietor of the store from which they were purchased. On one a large "Z" denoted that William Zingg had been guilty of the infraction of a city law, while the other told that John Rew had openly defied the lawmaking body of the city, according to the pastor.

Rew's establishment is located on Park street a few doors from Park avenue. Zingg conducts his business on the same street between Central and Santa Clara avenues.

BETS ARE PLACED.

At the Zingg store two bets had been placed on horses running at Emeryville. Both were losing chances. At the Rew house the plunger fared better, and $3.50 was won on fifty cents.

The name of the person making the bet is a secret but Rev. Macfarlane "now has the coin won on Bragg, or "the good dog," as he is characterized by the reverend.

This horse won at the lucrative odds of 7 to 1, and the coin as evidence, now lingles in the pocket of Rev. Macfarlane.

DEMANDS ARRESTS.

Sometime today Macfarlane declares he will see District Attorney Allen and request that the proper steps be taken to stop all illegal slot machines operating in this city.

These, the minister claims, are run in nearly every saloon and cigar store in direct violation of the laws of this State.

HAS EVIDENCE.

"Unlike Rev. Whitaker of Oakland," asserted Rev. Macfarlane, this morning, "I am able to substantiate every charge I have made, and will place the evidence with the proper authorities. It now remains to be seen if the people of Alameda want these establishments, working against public morals, to operate in their midst."

"People were actually astounded when I told them that such a condition of affairs existed. The proof, however, is too strong against these men to creep under and it is now the duty of the people to take what action they desire."

TRUSTEE ACCUSED.

This is the second instance within the last week where Trustee Boehmer has been accused. The property owners at the foot of Regent street have protested to the Board of Trustees that he is dumping garbage on the land belonging to him at the foot of that street, and is continuing to do so despite their verbal objections. All of which the protestants declare is inimical to their health and good spirits.

This protest was filed at the committee session of the trustees on Friday evening. The matter will be acted on tonight, and Trustee Boehmer will then know if he is to be prosecuted on two charges of infraction of the law.

CITY ORDINANCES.

The city ordinances provide that no person shall offer for sale or give away cigarettes in this city. The ordinance further provides that any person leasing to a person where cigarettes are for sale shall be punishable under a misdemeanor and that a fine of not exceeding $100 or fifty days in the city prison may be the sentence. Both fine and imprisonment may be the sentence.

"TOO MANY LAWS."

Trustee Boehmer, at the meeting of the Trustees on Friday evening, declared that there were too many laws, and that all law books should be burned up. He is of the same opinion this morning.

PASTOR'S CHARGES.

The sermon which has caused such a sensation in this city follows in part: "There are fathers and brothers playing the races through betting books made in Alameda, who are robbing their families and themselves. Slot machine gambling devices are playing in nearly every cigar store and saloon in Alameda, in defiance of the State law."

"The city has licensed these illegal machines, and an illegal ordinance derives an illegal revenue from them. The city is being paid for the privilege of teaching its people to gamble."

"It is against the law to sell a cigarette in this city. But cigarettes are sold. It is against the law to make a racing book, but racing books are made."

BETS ARE MADE.

"It is against the law to make a racing bet in the presence of a minor, but such bets are made. It is against the law to knowingly rent a place where gambling is the business or part of the business, yet buildings knowingly or unknowingly are being rented."

"You say, 'You ought not to say this without having knowledge of the facts. It is an easy thing to make charges, but you should make them good.' Very well, I accept the challenge."

"On Thursday night at the cigar store and gambling emporium of 'Billy' Zingg, a bet was placed on the horse 'Doc Craig' to win in a race at Emeryville. The coin was accepted and the initials of the person making the bet noted in the book which is kept in defiance of law."

"When that bet was made a minor of some seventeen years, stood by and looked on, although it is against the law to make such a bet in the presence of a minor. The building in which the transaction took place was rented by William Zingg from Fritz Boehmer, who is a member of the Board of Trustees of the City of Alameda, although it is against the law for a man to knowingly rent his building for that purpose."

DOES HE KNOW?

"Does Mr. Boehmer know it? If he does not, when it is going on before his eyes, does he know enough to be a member of the Trustees? The alternative is one for the people of Alameda to choose from. It looks uncomfortable from any point of view."

"On Friday night a bet was placed on Lady Goodrich to win in a race at Emeryville. At the same time Mr. Zingg was asked for a package of cigarettes. He went covertly to a case which he unlocked and got the cigarettes and placed them in a surreptitious manner in the hands of the purchaser. Did he know that it was illegal? If not, why the secrecy?"

ANOTHER CASE.

"On Friday night, March 2, at the cigar store of J. W. Rew, on Park street, a bet was placed on a horse named Bragg to win. The money was accepted, and the gentleman's initials entered on the little memorandum, which it is against the law to keep, but which Mr. Rew keeps."

"Since it is illegal to rent a place for gambling purposes, the question arises, who owns the building and does the landlord know that gambling is going on there? This incident took place in a building belonging to the late J. J. Konigshefer. I was not able to find in whose name it stands now but it is easy to ascertain."

"At this same store a package of cigarettes, which it is illegal to sell, was also purchased with the same surreptitious movement of the hand."

"I have here the package of cigarettes purchased from Mr. Zingg. It is initialed by purchaser with the letter 'Z' to distinguish it from this other one, exactly like it purchased from Mr. Rew, and marked with the letter 'R'."

"On Friday night a bet was placed on the horse Bragg. Well, it appears that Bragg is a 'good dog,' as well as a good horse, and the gentleman who placed a bet on him was given $3.50 as his winnings. With one of the half dollars won on the horse, two cigars were purchased from Mr. Rew at a cost of ten cents each, and the balance of the money was placed in a special pocket, and then transferred to this envelope, which I now exhibit to you."

Those six half dollars, that quarter and a nickel which you hear jingling are a part of the evidence I offer to you that the ordinances enacted by sovereign citizens of this community for the protection of society are deliberately and repeatedly broken under the eyes of the police without molestation from them."

WANTS ANSWER.

"Does Trustee Boehmer know that William Zingg is making a handbook on the races? If so, what sort of a City Trustee is he? If he does not know what everybody else around him knows, what sort of a Trustee is he? Is this corruption or incompetence? I do not know. I leave that to the people of Alameda to answer."

"I believe that when the people of Alameda pay a police department thousands of dollars a year they expect the department to enforce the laws and protect the homes. Do you think it possible that the police department knew this gambling was going on, and did not stop it? Or do you think it went on under their noses week after week, month after month, and they did not know it?"

"If that is so, what do you think of them? If they did know it, are they corrupt? If they did not know it, are they utterly incompetent?"

HAS CONFIDENCE.

"I have confidence in the integrity and good intent of the City Trustees as a whole. I believe that they will be shocked as you are and I was, at the disclosures that have been made, and that they will leave no stone unturned to see that the cases in which complaints will be filed tomorrow shall be prosecuted with vigor, and that the police department of the city of Alameda will receive such an overhauling as to result in their enforcing the ordinances against gambling."

"Tomorrow I will see District Attorney Allen and ask him to take some action regarding the slot machines operated here in violation of the State law."

"As Jesus with a few loaves fed the five thousand, so we can, with these few facts, kindle a fire that will sweep gambling out of Alameda."

PUBLICATION NOT A BUNCO SCHEME

In reference to the story printed that representatives of "The Story of the Greatest Nations" are obtaining orders for the publication under false pretenses, the following statement, signed by subscribers to the publication, who are said to have been dissatisfied, disproves any such declaration:

"The 'gold brick' proposition alluded to in the 'Reporter' and involving the names of several of Berkeley's housewives is not considered such by those interested. We, the undersigned, feel that we have been grossly insulted and misrepresented."

"We were not scared into paying one cent, neither were we ignorant of what we were doing. The work presented has proven itself exactly what it was represented. The 'clever Bostonian' deserves much credit for his tact and ability; he sailed under her own name, never alluding to the manager as her husband, or indulging in other unfair means to gain subscribers."

CARMEL ZION SOCIETY MEETS

Macabees Temple was thronged last evening by a joint meeting of the Carmel Zion Society of Oakland and the Daughters and Helpers of Zion of San Francisco. A number of prominent leaders of the movement addressed the meeting, including Dr. A. Reynolds, Dr. Kaplan and Dr. L. Epstein of San Francisco, and Marcus Jones and Gus Rinslow of the Oakland society.

So many of the speakers are planning to continue the joint meetings at stated intervals. The Oakland society has been in existence about two years, and a constantly increasing membership is arousing great enthusiasm among the workers here.

The movement is for the purpose of providing a home in Palestine for the oppressed Jews in the congested districts of Russia and other European countries. The importance of restoring the Jewish language and reviving the interest in Jewish history was dwelt upon particularly by the speakers as one of the best ways in which to arouse interest in the proposed home and provide the national spirit which is considered necessary to its support.

READY TO BACK OUT.

A large touring automobile containing a man and his wife, in a narrow road met a hay wagon fully loaded. The woman declared that the farmer must back out, but her husband contended that she was unreasonable.

"But you can't back the automobile to 'fore," she said, "and I don't intend to move for anybody. He should have seen us."

The husband pointed out that this was impossible owing to an abrupt turn in the road.

A WASHLADY.

The natives of the North Georgia mountains are loath to be considered "servants" in any sense of the term, hence the managers and guests at the various resorts in this section find the "help problem" a most difficult one. During the past summer, however, a great uncouth mountaineer strode into the lobby of a fashionable hotel and asked, in stentorian tones, "Is there any woman in this house that wants a wash for her?"—Harper's Magazine.

DEATH CALLS OLD RESIDENT

MRS. MARY CALLAGHAN OF LIVERMORE PASSES AWAY—OTHER NOTES.

LIVERMORE, March 5.—Once again death has visited the home of one of the oldest residents of the valley. Mrs. Mary Callaghan, who has been ill for several months with a complication of diseases and whose death has been daily expected for some time, passed away on Thursday morning.

She was the wife of Patrick Callaghan, one of the pioneer sheep men of the valley and was widely known on account of her long residence in this vicinity. She was a native of Ireland and was aged 53 years, 9 months and 10 days.

One of the family who survive her are her husband, Patrick Callaghan and four children, John, William, Mrs. Jerry Collins and Mrs. Frank Gould.

The funeral service was held in St. Michael's Church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Father P. Powers officiating. It was one of the largest funerals ever held in Livermore, despite the inclement weather.

FOR WESTERN PACIFIC.

Carney Bros. of Santa Barbara have the contract for the Western Pacific tunnel near Altamont. It was submitted to them by the E. & A. T. Stone Company, who are building the road bed through that section. The work will be pushed with all possible speed. As soon as the approaches are constructed a force of eighty experienced men, working in two shifts, night and day, will rush the work to completion.

FIRST GAME.

The first baseball game of the season was played Sunday afternoon by the local team, which was lined up against the J. Williams team of San Jose. Promptly at 2:30 o'clock Mayor Thompson took his position in the bleachers and the game was on. The first ball over the home plate, after which he was relieved from further work of sitting, was pitched by pitcher Lamb and retired to the ranks of the spectators.

The Livermore Cornet Band also furnished music during the progress of the game. Henry Hupers umpired the game in his usual able and impartial manner.

The score was as follows: Livermore 7, San Jose 0.

The lineup was as follows: Livermore—Brady, catcher; Callaghan, pitcher; Lamb, first base; Thompson, second base; Utendörffer, third base; Leonard, short stop; Robinson, left field; Lowenthal, center field; Anderson, right field; O'Connor, left field; Worth, right field.

BRIEF NOTES.

Mrs. Margaret J. Callaghan, children have moved from Stockton and will make their home with Uncle Jesse Bowles, whose wife died recently.

W. P. Erickson, local representative of the California Wine Association, has been entertaining a friend of his boyhood, the person of J. M. Jamison of Manitoba, this week.

David McDonald has returned from a trip to Colfax where he spent a few days with County Treasurer and Mrs. A. W. Felder. He reports that the change of climate has been beneficial to Mr. Felder's health, which is slowly but steadily improving.

Simon Anspacher of San Francisco spent last week attending to business connected with the firm of Anspacher Bros.

Mr. Knox came up from San Francisco Saturday evening to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Knox. Arthur, his assistant engineer, and V. E. Burd, who is now in San Francisco bay from Manila last week.

M. E. Bird and children who have been visiting Mrs. Bird's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Galloway, have returned to their home in San Francisco.

Mrs. V. J. Dennis of San Francisco is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Mitchell, who have returned from Merced and will again engage in business in Livermore.

W. P. Preter has returned from a month's visit with friends and relatives in Tulare county.

Marion H. Powers, who left Saturday and Sunday in Livermore taking in the horse show and visiting with his children and his parents.

THE ARTIFICIAL SKATING POND.

Stake out the pond and cut down the trees a foot or so from the edge. The soil can be thrown back upon the embankments at each side. All weeds and bushes must be cut down below the level of the intended surface of water, for these form disagreeable obstructions when left to freeze in it. Thick muck soil should now be carried from some nearby swamp and spread evenly over the surface of the pond. Ordinary muck, which is so abundant in many localities, makes an ideal material for this purpose. When first dug from the swamp it is lumpy and hard, and it will be necessary to pulverize it with a harrow after it is spread on the bottom of the pond. If carefully stirred around to a depth of two or three inches, the first rainstorm will dissolve it into the right consistency for use. Then with a hoe and rake go over the pond and compact the muck surface. That when it dries it will form a tough, even, watertight skin over the top soil. Even when rain falls on this surface it will not leak through it and disappear. Water can be held in the hollow nearly all winter. The skating pond is thus obtained at a little cost—American Homes and Gardens for March.

POWER OF THE PRESS.

Burgess Pennypacker of West Chester, Pa., unlike Governor Pennypacker, is an admirer of newspapers. Speaking before the Young Men's Christian Association of Wilmington the other day he paid Philadelphia the compliment of saying: "The men who stand at the outpost of the twentieth century are the newspaper men, and I glory in them. It was the newspapers of Philadelphia that cleared the State of Pennsylvania. They know what the people want. The cause that won't bear sunlight has no right on earth."—New York Tribune.

STARR KING FRATERNITY.

The meeting of the Starr King Fraternity which is to be held Thursday, March 8, at the First Unitarian Church, promises to prove unusually interesting. An excellent program, under the supervision of Mrs. Olive Reed Cushman and John W. Metcalf, will be rendered. A concert by the pupils of these very popular people will be a feature of the evening. Members and friends are assured a most delightful time.

A delicious odor to use in a sickroom is merely a mixture of powders. A half-ounce each of powdered frankincense, cascarilla, benzoin, clove cinnamon and thyme is the best. They should be worked into a fine, well mixed powder and kept in a tightly closed glass jar. When using heat either a metal dish or shovel and throw a little of the powder over it. It will smoke but not burn.

STOCKS BREAK IN GAS WELL STILL ON FIRE

DISASTROUS OVER MONEY OUTLOOK, ETC., CAUSES BAD CONDITION.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Stocks broke badly today on the heavy outpouring of liquidation from all quarters. There was a well centered bear attack on a number of stocks which have become vulnerable by the bulging up of extensive pool accounts and manipulation in the market. The dissatisfaction over the money outlook, the continued withdrawal of the banking reserves and the necessity of scaling down credit accounts to keep pace with the declining reserves were responsible for most of the selling.

The unstable condition of stocks developed last week caused widespread distrust and was the cause for sending out large additional margins on speculative holdings. Failure to respond to these inducements of some of the holdings by commission houses. The offering down of prices by the bears had the effect of exhausting margins and uncovering stop loss orders. Lenders of money also exercised increasing discrimination against some stocks whose market position was discredited when they appeared in collateral formations. Reading was especially weak and fell nearly six points below Saturday during the morning. Northwestern was also down six points; Northern Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific Steel three and a half to four and a half; Colorado Fuel four and a half, and Union Pacific, Illinois Central, Delaware & Hudson, St. Paul, Atlantic Coast Line, Smelting, General Electric, Hide and Leather preferred and some others from two to two and three-fourths. The average level in the whole list yielded between one and two points. The occasional profits in the market were due to hasty profit-taking by the bears by buying to cover.

OLD SWIMMING HOLE SAVED.

The old swimming hole has been saved and Brandywine creek will not be dredged after months of labor and the expenditure of $5000 in preparing reports, fixing damages, Judge Meade Vestal, of Noblesville, Ind., has rendered a decision that the circuit court had no jurisdiction and that the petition is therefore dismissed at the cost of the petitioners.

There was never a case in the Hancock circuit court in which so many persons were interested. Brandywine is a creek that flows southeast of the city, and is a most unreliable stream as one night's hard rain will cause it to jump its banks. It is said this would be remedied if the course was changed and numerous bonds taken out, while, at the same time, much land would be reclaimed. Attempts a few years ago were made to dredge and straighten the creek, but they were failed. This spring an organized effort was at once made to prevent it. Farmers claimed their benefits would not compare with their assessments, and a remonstrance containing 2000 names was presented. The petition, on the plea that the action was brought under the new law. This petition was not upheld, and the commissioners were instructed to proceed with the survey and preparation of the assessment roll.

It was the general opinion then that the work would be done, but the city of Greenfield, through W. C. Welborn, city attorney, asked for a change of venue from Judge Morris, of Newcastle, and Judge Vestal, of Noblesville, was selected. The plea of no jurisdiction was raised and argued for three days by fourteen attorneys. The city claimed that as the creek flowed through the city, and as all the petitioners lived within the city, it was a case for the city court. This was the basis of the petition. The point decided is that persons residing within a city and owning no real estate affected outside, can not petition in the circuit court for a drain of the city. The petitioners raised the question of the annexation of the creek to the city, but the court held that while the annexation may not have been correctly done, the residents for twenty-three years have enjoyed undisputed city residence, school privileges, etc., and it was legally a part of the city.—Indianapolis News.

THE CALIFORNIA PATIO.

The patio is of several kinds as seen in the accompanying illustration. The patio built by the house, as the splendid patio of the Hotel Coronado, at Coronado beach, California, probably one of the largest in the world, where a great variety of plants and flowers are grown. Then there is the half patio where the house is built around a court on three sides, the rear side being left open. Again the patio may be a court open on two sides, several of which can be seen in Pasadena. In one the patio was an after consideration, and has been extended to the south, the north and east walls of the house forming the closed portion, while the others were constructed of the same material. The patio of this house is a small fountain in the center and a garden all around it in which are placed plants noted for their beauty and climbing vines. The patio with a blaze of color, so that in looking through the Moresque corridor from without they are outlined against this color scheme. Beautiful roses are seen on the patio of its sides, the top being left open. In this snug harbor the owner sits every day in winter evenings. Literally in choice flowers, a fine lawn reaching on every side from the house, forming the frame of the picture.—American Homes and Gardens for March.

SANITARY CONSTRUCTION.

Sanitary construction is the basis on which all good construction rests. The house must be built with due regard to sanitary requirements and conditions, or it will be completely unfit for occupancy. Some conditions to building are so essential as to be axiomatic. Thus brick, though unavailably porous, should be as free from porosity as possible; the wood should be well seasoned and sound; the plaster and wall coverings should be impermeable. Even quite modern houses are an expensive undertaking, and the best possible materials should always be used. These not only have greater durability than materials of lesser grade, but their superior qualities render the dwelling much more fit for habitation. There is no greater crime in building than to build "cheap."

The great problem of sanitary construction is the exclusion of damp, it is the most serious natural force the builder has to contend against, because it is always present. Most of his materials are porous, both brick and stone, and many woods, and he can not build well unless he fights this enemy at every point.—American Homes and Gardens for March.

FLAMES ARE FORCED ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY FEET INTO THE AIR.

CANEY, Kan., March 5.—The great gas well five miles west of here in Indian Territory, which has been burning since February 5, continued to roar today with unabated fury.

The flames forced 150 feet into the air, were visible forty miles away last night. The fire probably is one of the worst of its kind gasmen have ever had to combat.

An attempt to extinguish the flames with steam having failed, an effort to drop an immense iron cap over the well was made, but without success. This cap, weighing 3000 pounds, was turned to a white heat when within twenty feet of the well. Another attempt will be made to cap the well.

OPENING DAYS AT MISS RYAN'S

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week will be opening days at Miss Ryan's millinery store, 820 Fourteenth street, and on these days a display of attractive headwear for women will be shown, such as has never before been seen in Oakland.

Miss Ryan recently made a special trip to New York and other large Eastern cities for the purpose of selecting the latest styles and novelties for her spring display. As a result of her trip the ladies of Oakland will have an opportunity of viewing a magnificent stock of millinery, including all the latest imported novelties, and may purchase with the bill added for delivery at home. Selections will be strictly first-class and up to date in every particular.

DEMAND MISSING LIST OF WITNESSES

CHICAGO, March 5.—A call was made in the packers' case today upon District Attorney Morrison for the list of 200 witnesses turned over to the Department of Justice by Commissioner Garfield.

District Attorney Morrison said he had been unable to find the list. The attorneys for the packers protested that there had been plenty of time and unless the names are soon produced the purpose of their use will be defeated. The District Attorney said he would continue the search with all possible diligence.

Attorney George W. Bligh took up the cross-examination of Special Agent Durand for Nelson Morris, of whom he had filed an affidavit for arrest. Mr. Durand examined the witness.

GOLF AND MATRIMONY.

As an illustration of the enthusiasm with which golf is pursued by the ladies, the following anecdote is told of a well-known Scotch author and a young friend of his: "The two had spent the whole day on the links, and had had some close and exciting matches. As they left for home the elder man remarked: 'Do you think you could play again tomorrow, laddie?'

'Well,' answered the youth, 'I was to be married tomorrow, but I can put it off.'—Harper's Weekly.

OVERHEARD AT BREAKFAST

Mr. Oak—My, what fine muffins.

Mrs. Oak—Yes, the new maid is a jewel. She suits perfectly.

Mr. Oak—Where did you discover her?

Mrs. Oak—I simply phoned a want ad to THE TRIBUNE and she came with her bag and suitcase next day.

Mr. Oak—THE TRIBUNE was a real benefactor.

PEASANTS VOTING

Village Elders Are Elected Without Any Opposition.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 5.—The primary elections of the peasant class of which there are four degrees, are in progress. The returns thus far are significant.

Yesterday in the rural districts of St. Petersburg province the peasants almost without exception chose the present village elders and Volost chiefs, or members of the Volost courts to select the delegates to the provincial congress which will be composed of representatives of the four degrees and which later will choose representatives to the national assembly.

The selection of the same leaders which under the old regime were named more or less through the influence of the government district agents, in the provincial congress will be conservative.

No change, however, has been raised thus far that the government has exercised undue influence, and until the result of the peasant elections in the district in which extensive agrarian disorders occurred is known, the deduction that the communal machinery has been employed in the peasant elections cannot be drawn.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN THE MACDONOUGH

There will be a gala night at the Macdonough Theater tonight, where George Ade's quaint pictorial comedy, "The County Chairman," will be the attraction.

Mr. Ade has steadily advanced in the work of dramatic writings since his first venture, "The Sultan of Sulu," was produced, less than three years ago. There were other entirely successful works along the line of musical comedy, but in his first genuine play he seems to have achieved a success which overshadows all his other efforts. This theater-going public is familiar with the career of "The County Chairman." It was produced in New York where it ran nearly an entire year at Wallack's Theater.

There were many discerning ones who proclaimed the new work a thoroughly genuine comedy, reflecting a certain characteristic aspect of life in the West as no other production has ever done. Rural scenes have been employed in scores of plays, many of which have been accorded high praise, but in nearly every case they have been too sentimental or too far from the actual life of the West as to be of any value.

Mr. Ade has gone into the section of life in the Middle West and taken for his theme the honest peasant of that section. He has drawn his types just as they are, at times a little broad, but he has tempered them with the but they never approach the grotesque.

Politics, a theme which is as vital and important at the country crossroads as it is in the city, furnishes the main action of the story. One reason why "The County Chairman" has been so uniformly successful in the theater is that nearly every theatergoer has either come from or passed a part of their lives in some country town. The play is so full of the traits of the boards are reflexes of many such personages we might have known all too early youth and as they are so graphically transferred to the dramatic canvas and are so naturally real, it seems like the union of old acquaintances. Theodore Babcock, the well known actor, who will play the part of Jim Hasker, George Thatcher has the role of the laudable negro, Sambo. Other members of the excellent company are Herman Loh, Morris Norrally, Richard J. Dillon, James H. Brown, John Gorman, Charles Burke, Ruby Bridges, Grace Roeline, Zenaide Williams, Florida Kingsley and Kathleen MacDonnell.

COLONEL FIFE AND HIS FLAG

In the rear end of Fife's store and over the door is an American flag fastened in such a manner that it looks as though it were floating to the breeze. Before the war broke out with Spain Colonel W. J. Fife went to Fort Wrangell, Alaska, during the gold rush, and he took the flag and floated it over his place of business, and when war came that war was declared he took his flag and returned home to Tacoma, and took it on the United States transport Sontok to San Francisco.

For a time he was quartered with his command at the Bonanza warehouse, near Black Point, on San Francisco bay, and the flag floated from the staff on the building. Then he was assigned to the command of Angel Island, in the bay, and there he floated his flag. Then he was assigned to the Philippines, where the expedition for the Philippine Islands, United States transports, the Valencio, just lost on the north Pacific coast, and on this transport his flag floated to the base, and the Senator, and in all he had 1300 men.

At Honolulu, Hawaii, he stayed five days and gave the men a good rest, and the flag was seen there. After the expedition arrived in the Philippines the flag floated from his different headquarters at Pao, Santa Ana, Pasig and Guatapula Ridge, and hundreds of the brave boys who saw the emblem float on the islands, and miles away have answered the last roll call, and as they sounded the last notes for the honored dead it has rested on the coffin of the hero of the nation in mourning for the dead. It heard the scream of shot and shell, it spoke and it breathed, it inspired, it was a living thing, it was a sacred inspiration.—Los Vegas, Nev., Times.

Colonel Fife was educated at the California Military Academy in Oakland. He was in command of the cadets when General Grant visited Oakland on his way home from a trip around the world.

AT THE TEA TABLE.

Bobby—Is God everywhere?
Mother (patiently)—Yes, Bobby.
Bobby—Is he in the tea pot?
Mother (embarrassed)—Why, yes, Bobby.
Bobby—Is he in the sugar bowl?
Mother (frantically)—Yes! I told you, Bobby (triumphantly, placing his hand over the top of the sugar bowl)—Hurray! I've got him!—Judge.

LIVERMORE HOLDS HORSE SHOW

MANY PEOPLE TURN OUT TO WITNESS PARADE DESPITE INOLEMENT WEATHER.

LIVERMORE, March 5.—The Livermore annual horse show was held Saturday according to schedule. Despite the fact that the day was stormy and the roads rather had a large crowd was in attendance. The streets were lined with people; many of whom had driven quite a distance in order to be present and they were not disappointed.

The show was a success and the large number of high class horses entered proved beyond a doubt that there is a steady improvement in the quality of horses of all classes in the valley. This is especially true of that class of horses known as heavy drafts. The good prices paid by buyers from the bay cities during the past few years has given a fresh impetus to the breeding of horses of this class.

The parade was somewhat late in forming, but the rain ceased about 1 o'clock. At 1:15 the officials of the show decided not to postpone it and this disappointed the assembled crowd.

LINE OF MARCH.
The line was formed on McLeod street, the line of march being as follows: From McLeod street, east along First street, to M street, east on First street to J street, thence south to Second street, and thence east to Lizzie street.

The line was halted and held on Lizzie street while the horses were moved one at a time in front of the reviewers' stand, which was located in front of the flagpole at the intersection of First and Lizzie streets.

At the beginning the first horse into the ring William McDonald introduced the Hon. James W. Clarke, orator of the day, who made an able and appropriate address, which was loudly applauded by the assembled crowd.

At the conclusion of the address by the orator of the day came the review of the horses. As each horse appeared before the stand, Announcer William McDonald gave the horse a brief description, and the judges to his credit and other particulars.

"Big Bill" was at his best and kept the crowd interested from start to finish. He is a walking encyclopedia of pedigree and has a height that would have done credit to his rainy days in the Assembly, where he won his title of "The Tall Sycamore of the Livermore Valley."

TWO DIVISIONS.
The horses shown in the ring were in two divisions and the list was as follows:

THE LATEST NEWS OF THE DAY--4:30 P. M.

ROGERS READY

He Will Answer if the Court Makes the Order.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Decision on the question whether H. E. Rogers shall be compelled to answer the questions asked of him in the Missouri trial hearing, and which he refused to answer, was postponed until March 26, Justice C. L. Dwyer, who heard the argument, directed the adjournment to await a final decision in the Missouri courts relative to a similar case.

During the argument for adjournment, W. H. Rowe, of counsel for Mr. Rogers, said:

"I wish to tell the court, as the mouthpiece of Mr. Rogers, that if the final decision of the Missouri court is against Mr. Rogers, he will answer the questions as to the stock transfer without any order of the court."

Henry Wollman, who represented the State of Missouri for Attorney-General Hadley, objected to the adjournment, saying it was an effort of the Standard to delay the case.

"If Mr. Rowe will say as a matter of record for this court," said Mr. Wollman, "that Mr. Rogers will answer on the 23d of March, I am satisfied, but we don't want to agree to having this hearing adjourned so as to give them time to appeal to the United States Supreme Court."

March 23 is the date for the resumption of the Standard Oil hearing before Commissioner Sanborn.

Mr. Rowe then repeated his statements on Mr. Rogers' behalf.

Justice C. L. Dwyer adjourned the hearing before him until March 26, saying that in the meantime the final decision of the Missouri court would have been handed down, and if the decision should come before the 23d and be against Mr. Rogers, the latter would answer without any order of the Supreme Court of this State.

ACCUSED LADS
PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Frank B. Bowen and Donald McKisick, the two Alameda youths charged with having attempted to enter the Southern Pacific depot at Seventh and Center streets in Alameda came up for arraignment this morning before Judge T. W. Harris in the criminal department of the Superior Court and both entered a plea of not guilty.

Frank Bowen was represented by Attorney Henry C. McKie and owing to the fact that a case was set for next Thursday was going over, Bowen's case was set for this date, as it is believed that it will not take more than two or three days to conclude the trial.

Donald McKisick was represented by Attorney Lin Church and he was given the first open date on the docket which proved to be April 24. In the meantime, however, Attorney C. E. Snook will take an appeal in the matter of a writ of habeas corpus heard before Judge Harris in the Appellate Court, and try to have his client free without the necessity of a trial.

FRANK B. JOSEPHS
CALLED BY DEATH

Frank B. Josephs, an attorney and formerly a police officer of this city, died last night at his residence in West Oakland, after an illness of nearly two years. The deceased was a native of Oakland, having resided here almost all of his life.

For a number of years he was connected with the police force, but subsequently studied law and was admitted to the bar. He does not leave any immediate relative, save one brother. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Workmen, of which he was a member.

CONSTABLES' ARREST
MEN AT SHELL MOUND

Three men giving the names of Fred Bulwinkle, Ed Smith and Ed Rowen were arrested yesterday afternoon at Shellmound Park and taken to the county jail where the two latter were charged with disturbing the peace, while Bulwinkle was charged with resisting an officer. They were taken into custody by Deputy Constables Wagner and Wilkins, one of whom claims he was severely kicked by Bulwinkle.

FRUIT STEAMER IS NOW OVERDUE

MOBILE, Ala., March 5.—The big fruit steamer Fort Gaines from Boca del Toro for Mobile, is now six days overdue. She was spoken last Thursday off Cuba and signaled "All well, having trouble with pumps."

COUNCIL TO MEET.

The City Council and the Committee of the Whole will meet this evening to consider water rates and the routine matter reported on by the Council Committee last Thursday evening.

MRS. BAKER PASSES AWAY.
Mrs. Mary Brandy, a widow aged seventy-nine years, died last night at her home, 450 Twenty-fourth avenue. She was a native of England. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. J. H. Stiles.

WILL NOT STARVE

Report That People at Tahiti Need Food Is Denied.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—A relief fund for the sufferers from the recent tidal wave and cyclone which swept over Tahiti and the neighboring islands will be started here immediately under the management of French Consul Lannell, who expects to send some aid by the steamship Mariposa, which will sail next Sunday morning. He says he does not believe that the inhabitants of Tahiti will suffer greatly for want of food. Of the 10,000 people on that island three hundred are whites who get their supplies from this city. The natives live almost entirely on bread fruits and coconuts.

The report that the natives have had their groves swept away and are facing starvation is denied by F. S. Samuels, secretary to John D. Spreckels, president of the Oceanic Steamship Company. Mr. Samuels says that the coconut groves are locally situated on the higher portions of the island, and were not reached by the tidal wave which destroyed the custom house and postoffice.

"There has been no serious damage," said Samuels. "At least there has been none in Tahiti, and the report that the inhabitants must face starvation is absurd. Some of the smaller islands possibly were swept over, but there are few human beings on any of them and most of them are uninhabited. Of course we cannot say if people who did live on these islands were lost, as our information comes only from Tahiti."

DAMAGE CASE IS BROUGHT TO TRIAL

The trial of a $5000 damage suit brought against Sheriff Frank Barnett by H. J. Gamble, who conducted a cigar store at the corner of Broadway and Washington street, was begun this morning before Judge Ellsworth. Gamble claims that the Sheriff exercised his authority in serving an attachment on his place of business and that he suffered injury to the amount sued for by the closing up of his place of business as he claims illegally. The Sheriff is protected by a bond.

BOGUS DOLLAR IS TROUBLE MAKER

William Clark, a mechanic, visited the restaurant of Y. Sato, a Japanese, last Saturday evening and partook of a meal. When he paid for the same he alleges he received a bogus dollar in change. He did not discover this fact until he was out of the restaurant. On returning, the Japanese denied all knowledge of the spurious coin.

Clark asked for another dollar but was refused. To make up for his alleged loss Clark is alleged to have grabbed $3 from the till and ran.

Sergeant Henderson was informed of the episode and placed the American under arrest. He appeared before Police Judge Samuels this morning, but the case went over until tomorrow to permit the filing of a complaint.

Clark asked for another dollar but was refused. To make up for his alleged loss Clark is alleged to have grabbed $3 from the till and ran.

Mr. and Mrs. Danforth passed through Oakland yesterday and announced their marriage to a number of their friends and received hearty congratulations from all of them.

Mr. Danforth will be associated in the practice of his profession at Tonopah with James P. O'Brien, a former attorney of San Francisco.

ASSESSOR WILL BEGIN HIS WORK

Assessor Henry P. Dalton appointed his field deputies this morning who will begin the work of assessing the property of the residents of the county today. They are H. C. Alsworth, F. M. Shay, T. E. Murphy, W. P. Rigney, P. J. Nickless, H. La Perle, N. C. Stoddard, and A. J. Blalock.

KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Engineer May Meet Tragic Death Across the Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Second Assistant Engineer Erickson S. May died at 2:30 this afternoon as the result of an explosion on the steamer Enterprise at the dock of the Western Sugar Refinery in the Portico. The second auxiliary condenser blew out and May was struck on the head by a huge piece of iron, besides being terribly burned by escaping steam.

He lived only about two hours. He was twenty-four years old and resided at 139 Jersey street. He was to have been married in a few months.

RELEASES WOMAN WHO DIDN'T PAY

Miss Nora Garrity, who came into unenviable distinction a few weeks ago, by dining in various restaurants and refusing to pay for the meals she had partaken of, had judgment finally suspended on her this morning by Police Judge Samuels on a charge of defrauding an "in keeper."

The young woman, who for a time defied both the restaurant men and the city authorities, to the extent of deliberately repeating her offense the moment she was released from jail, seems to have reformed. Her conduct was such that Judge Samuels let her go, with the stern warning, not to again resume her trade of trying to get something for nothing.

DR. DAY CANNOT BE LOCATED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The mysterious Dr. R. M. Day or R. M. Day, whose signature is attached to the certificate attesting the sound physical condition of Harry Tenebaum is still in the realms of the unknown. For five days the police have been trying to locate the fleeing surgeon, but without result. No one around the tenderloin seems to have any information concerning him. The best that can be learned is that such a person occasionally drifted around the sporting resorts, but whence came and whether he has gone no one knows.

SENT TO PRISON.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Joseph Jordan, the Patrickswill man, who pleaded guilty to perjury, was today sentenced to one year and six months' imprisonment.

Jordan, at the hearing here on a motion for a new trial for Albert T. Patrick, said he had not been in prison in Texas, and afterward admitted this statement to be untrue.

INVALID OF YEARS DIES.

Henry Hiney, an old resident of Piedmont, died yesterday at his home. He was a painter by occupation. He leaves a wife, two sons and a daughter. He had been an invalid for the last five years.

VALLEJO

Ballot Machines Are Being Used at the Polls.

VALLEJO, March 5.—The municipal election is proceeding quietly and a big vote is being polled. Election machines are being used. The navy yard employees will cast their votes between three and five o'clock p. m.

James Roney is a candidate for Mayor on the Republican ticket, while J. J. Madigan is the choice of the Democrats for the same office.

A squabble among the Republicans is declared by the Democrats to have weakened the former party, but the Republicans claim a victory, nevertheless.

CHIEF VOLLMER TO RESIGN

BERKELEY, March 5.—It is asserted on good authority today that Chief of Police August Vollmer will, on next Monday night, tender his resignation to the Town Trustees. It is understood that Mr. Vollmer has been offered an excellent position which will mean a large increase in salary over the sum he is now receiving as town marshal. Under his present position he receives $125 a month.

When seen at his office this morning, Chief Vollmer would not state definitely that he was ready to retire, but admitted that he had received a very flattering business offer which he would probably accept.

CONTRA COSTA CO
BRINGS SUIT

MARTINEZ, March 5.—The Contra Costa Water Company filed a suit, late Saturday night, here, against Ernest E. Drensel and about thirty-five others, to condemn riparian water rights along San Pablo creek.

HE DIED BY HIS FATHER'S SIDE

CHICAGO, March 5.—John Brady, thirty years of age, living in Boston, died here today in a railway depot while awaiting an ambulance which was to take him to a hospital. In company with his father, Brady, who was suffering with consumption, had spent the winter in California. He was on his way home, and became so much worse when he reached Chicago that his father determined to place him in a hospital. He died while his father sat by his side, believing him asleep, and the young man had been dead fully half an hour when the ambulance arrived.

LOUISIANA WINS
THE CASE IN COURT

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The United States Supreme Court today decided the case of Louisiana vs. Mississippi, involving the water boundary line between the two States, in favor of Louisiana. The opinion held that the peninsula and adjacent islands are a part of the territory of Louisiana. In its pleading Louisiana claimed the disputed territory covered a million acres of oyster beds.

LOGAN SAILS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The United States army transport Logan sailed today for the Philippines. In addition to a number of cabin passengers, she carried the Eighth Infantry and two troops of the Third Cavalry. She also took back two stowaways who arrived here on the Buford.

MURDER TRIAL.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The trial of Berthe Clache for murder was resumed this afternoon. It was learned that Berthe Clache had offered to give evidence against the police and that her counsel demanded that she be given her freedom as a reward for such evidence. To this the prosecution refused to agree.

SENT TO PRISON.

SAN JOSE, March 5.—Ignatio Barci was today sentenced to four years in San Quentin prison for stealing pumps.

PARIS, March 5.—King Edward today gave a dinner at the British embassy to former President Loubet and former Foreign Minister Delcasse. The presence of the latter is considered a graceful acknowledgment of M. Delcasse's services in connection with the Anglo-French agreement.

FOREFEITS
HIS BAIL

Man Accused of Robbery Fails to Appear in Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—George Roberts, alias Jackson, accused of having robbed W. L. Parry, a Los Angeles business man, failed to appear today when his case was called in court. He was arrested March 1905, but fled to Seattle, and was only brought back to this city after a six months' legal battle. He was held to answer, with his bonds fixed at $2000, being furnished by his mother-in-law. He was convicted and the Supreme Court granted him a new trial upon an error in the record.

His bonds were furnished by a surety company the second time on the security of his mother-in-law. While his second trial was pending he was arrested for vagrancy and Judge Morgan released him on $100 cash bail.

DREYFUS CASE

PARIS, March 5.—Major Culmet has written an open letter denouncing the delay in the Dreyfus case before the Court of Cassation and intimating that the delay is due to official manipulation of the secret papers in the case.

Major Culmet is the officer who discovered the Henry forgery while he was examining the Dreyfus documents at the time M. Cayrol was Minister of War, and had a dispute with the late Minister of War, General Andre, about some papers. He was recently placed under thirty days' arrest owing to the publication of a letter in which he brought grave charges against General Andre.

DROPPED DEAD.

VALLEJO, March 5.—W. Lanchetti, a well known citizen, dropped dead today of apoplexy in a store where he had entered to make a purchase.

HEALTH MEASURES ARE STRICTLY ENFORCED

Uncle Sam's Little Island Colony Is Making Excellent Progress.

AGANA, Guam, January 25. (via San Francisco, March 5.)—The past three weeks have been marked by an unusual number of vessels visiting the harbor of Agana.

Following the army transport Logan on January 5 came the transport Lawton on the 11th and the Concord on January 19.

The transport Sherman is expected tomorrow and the Lawton will return from Manila during the following week. The Japanese schooners Tori Maru and Chomei Maru also arrived.

None of these vessels brought passengers for Guam and very little freight or stores, in consequence of which the colony feels the shortage in provisions.

ARMY BUSINESS.

In fact, the rush of army business in the Philippines has made the transportation of goods for this island almost out of the question and as there is no other regular line of steamers it is becoming a very serious question how to obtain the necessary food material. While the Concord took on 300 tons of corn from the Nanshan.

It was hoped that the coming of the Lawton and Concord would give a fair chance to test the new wireless station but the results obtained here were by no means satisfactory.

The finances of the island are in better condition than they have been for some years past, due to large recent importations and stimulated trade. The treasury balance has increased at the rate of $2500 (Mexican) per month during the last six months.

MONEY WAS WANTED.

The situation was, however, up to a few days ago, critical for the reason that the established currency of the island (Mexican) was so scarce on account of large shipments by the Japanese that insufficient remained in circulation to pay the taxes and import dues.

This situation was relieved on January 11 by the receipt of a cablegram from President Roosevelt, through the Secretary of the Navy, permitting gold to be received at current rates by the island government.

SANITARY LAWS.

In response to a recent order issued by the Governor the town of Agana and surrounding hamlets have taken a different aspect.

Never was there such a cleaning and re-building in the history of the island, the people responding cheerfully and with spirit to the new sanitary regulations.

BANKER SCHIFF IS HERE

GREAT FINANCIER ON A PLEASURE TRIP TO THIS COAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Jacob H. Schiff, banker of Wall street, New York and Ernest H. Schiff of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Germany. The entire party will sail on the Manchuria next Thursday for Japan, where will travel about, breathing in the balmy air of the Orient and absorbing from it renewed health and vigor. It is purely a personal trip, they all say, and each member of the party insists that no business be talked about—at least to outsiders.

BUSINESS MAY BE CALL.

But it is rumored that Jacob H. Schiff is really going to Japan on a trip concerning a transaction that amounts to many millions and concerns greatly the people of the Pacific Coast. Some time ago it was rumored that the great Japanese steamship company, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, had made an offer to Jacob Schiff for the purchase of the Pacific Mail Company's line of steamships. The amount offered was not published at the time, but it was everywhere understood that the offer was a generous one. Jacob Schiff was besieged by newspaper and financial men at the time for confirmation of the evidently correct report, but he refused to confirm it. Neither would he deny that an offer had been made by this Japanese company for the purchase of this line and his action at that time led the public to believe that the offer had been made and was bona fide.

This trip to Japan, in view of the offer made, may well be of a business nature. It is possible that Jacob Schiff crosses to the Orient to better the public and he may be going to complete the purchase arrangements at once. His movements are being watched with tremendous interest all over the world, for he is a world-figure.

He refused yesterday to discuss business in any form. "We are purely on a pleasure trip," he said, "and we have all of us agreed to banish all thought of business from our brains. We have had enough business lately and we are going to take a rest."

"Do you deny, Mr. Schiff, that you are contemplating the sale of the Pacific Mail Company's ships?"

"I do not deny anything. I am on a pleasure trip," he replied.

SILENT ON GOULD FIGHT.

Jacob Schiff is the financial power behind the Southern Pacific and he was asked about the present war between that corporation and the Western Pacific on the Oakland water front.

"I am not here to talk business," he repeated. "Wait until I come back again. Then maybe I can tell you something."

Schiff is fat and jolly, and looks as though he thoroughly enjoys every meal that he eats. He has lots of hair on his head, too—gray hair. He is not tall, but is deep-chested and seems to have a very strong constitution.

This banker is one of the greatest money powers in the world today. He is a member of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York. He is the American outlet for the money of France and England. He is the financier of the Southern Pacific Company and at present he is at war to the death with the Goulds. He has been the bone and sinew of many tremendous operations in Wall street. It was his aid which enabled Minister Takahashi to float the great Japanese war loan. He has not been in San Francisco for eight months.

HIS SMILE IS NOW FAMOUS

Longworth's Reputation For Serious Expression Changed by Happiness.

Now it's the Longworth smile. The Roosevelt smile is eclipsed. Congressman Longworth has refuted that reputation his colleagues gave him some time ago "the smileless young representative." He has caught something of the spirit of the Roosevelt smile. His smile is different from that of the President. It is not accompanied with the President's "I'm delighted," but with the frank, hearty words, "I'm very happy."

The serious, reposeful expression of the young Congressman's face has been wholly replaced by smiles.

"It's a great improvement, Nick," remarked one of his friends the other day, referring to his smiles.

"Thanks," he replied. "I guess the improvement will be a permanent one, then, for I suppose every man smiles more or less when he's happy, doesn't he?"

With all the disadvantages of an interested public in his love affairs, the curious crowd pressing about him during his New York visit, the battery of cameras leveled at him, Congressman Longworth just smiled good naturedly, as though he had always been accustomed to it, and did not seem to care a bit.

"Do you mind all this world-wide publicity?" one of his friends asked.

"O, I am bearing up beautifully under it," laughed Mr. Longworth. "You don't mean to say you really enjoy it?"

Mr. Longworth smiled at his friend's question, as much as to say, "You don't seem to understand!" Then slowly he said: "O, I enjoy everything. You see, I am a very happy man."—New York World.

HAVANA LIKE AN AMERICAN STAGE

With the automobile races only a week off Havana is rapidly filling up with tourists, and the city bears a resemblance to an American watering place. At the opening night of the Socogmamog opera company there were a large number of Americans in the audience, attracted undoubtedly by the opera given. "The Geisha," which is quite as popular here as it was when produced in New York, and the jokes seem quite as funny in Italian as in the original English. The Japanese San la Perrotti sang charmingly, but La Gattini seems to have lost voice as well as flesh since she was here before, last April, and of the tenor, well, he has a good stage presence, and he wore the uniform of an English naval officer acceptably, stuck a monocle in his eye and twirled a swaggar stick.

Every box in the Nacional was subscribed for several days before the opening night, and though a few were not occupied on Saturday, presumably on account of the weather, for it rained, there was not a vacant chair in the orchestra and standing room was taken for the first time this season.—New York Herald.

COLONIAL MANSION IS BURNED

Fire Sunday destroyed Montgomery Hall, the beautiful colonial house of Mrs. Frank Walker in Staunton. The house was probably the most handsome one in that section of Virginia. It was bought by Mrs. Walker when she came from New York to Staunton four years ago. The main building was put up in 1824 by Colonel John Howe Peyton and is said to have been designed by Thomas Jefferson.

The property was out of reach of the Staunton water power and firemen were unable to save it. A chemical engine was sent to the place, but the fire had gained great headway. Almost all the household effects were saved.—New York Press.

STATUES BY DOUGLAS TILDEN OF OAKLAND

FATHER JUNIPERO SERRA. STEPHEN M. WHITE.

Douglas Tilden, the deaf and dumb sculptor, whose studio is located at 1545 Webster street, has completed a statue of Father Junipero Serra, founder of the old Spanish Missions of California, which is to be presented to the city of San Francisco by James D. Phelan, who also gave to that city the monument known as "The Native Son," which stands at the intersection of Mason and Market streets. The monument to Father Junipero will be erected in Golden Gate Park, and will stand on a pedestal twelve feet in height, the design for which has been prepared by Edgar A. Matthews.

Tilden has also completed a model of a statue of the late Senator Stephen M. White, which is to stand in front of the court house at Los Angeles. The statue will be eight feet in height, and it will be placed on a pedestal sixteen feet high, which has been designed by Ernest Coxhead. The cost of the monument, about $20,000, has been raised by public subscription. The model now stands complete in the studio of the sculptor, and it will be inspected in a few days by former Mayor Snyder and Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, the chairman and secretary of the committee that has been entrusted with the work of erecting the monument to the California Statesman.

PROMINENT YOUNG PRIESTS ARE AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH. GEORGE GREEN'S APPEAL TO ATTORNEY OF MAN WHOSE WIFE HAVE CHARGE DISMISSED DENIED. PREFERRED ANOTHER FAILS IN ATTEMPT.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Justice Gould, in Criminal Court No. 1, today overruled the motion made by the counsel in the case of George A. Green, of Binghamton, N. Y., on trial for conspiracy in connection with the sale of supplies to the postoffice department, to instruct the jury to acquit the defendant and the defense proceeded with the submission of their case.

In reply to a question from the court, counsel for the defense suggested that they might get through with their testimony today.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

Th large fortune left by Herr Emilie Altmann of Basel will bring happiness to many lovers, for by the will of the worthy banker, the interest of it is to be spent in dowries for poor girls of his native town.

A group of women were talking over their tea of the distressing decline of domestic services. They expressed wonder that girls should prefer the work of factory and shop to the feminine career of housework in a good home. Within a few minutes the conversation turned to servants' names. "I never bother to remember my girls' names," firmly remarked one of the speakers. "I call all the cooks Maggie and all the upstairs girls Mary or Katie. It saves so much mental strain." And yet they wonder that self-respecting girls seek the factory and the shop.

The quiet of Marie Correll's home at Stratford-on-Avon seemed likely to be destroyed not long ago by the opening of a girls' school in the house immediately adjoining her own. The famous novelist found that the recitations of the pupils greatly interrupted her literary work. She stood it, however, as long as she could, but finally wrote a letter of protest to the proprietor of the school. The reply she received was prompt, and ran as follows:

"Dear Miss Correll: Judging from the literary work of yours which it has been my privilege to see, I should say that it would be just as well if you were interrupted even more frequently."

There are the girls who tell fortunes for the fun of the thing, and who read palms or cards or tea-grounds—anything that has plenty of signs and wonders in it—wearing a pretty romance and dealing out fables and fortune liberally, like a very obliging set of Fates. You don't want to know too much about the lines of a palm or the rules which govern card fortunes, but the requisite gift is that you make your statements in a convincing way and are not afraid to prophesy. But don't tell any of the dreadful things which may happen; you never know when you're dealing with some one who is steeped in superstition and who promptly decides to worry about those things.

If you play—piano or violin or any of the many instruments—don't play any sort of piece that is long or heavy, unless you are sure that the people you're playing for want it.

CONVICTS AT WORK

Clearing Away the Debris Caused by the Tornado. Court Holds That Senator Did Not Secure It by Fraud.

MERIDIAN, Miss., March 5.—The work of gangs of convicts both from the State farm at Rankin and from the city prisons, as well as thousands of citizens, in clearing away the debris of the tornado of Friday night, continued all last night without interruption, a cordon of soldiers being drawn around the places where the work was going on to prevent the crowds from interfering with the progress of operations.

The work of many workers were confined to the wreck of the Meier-Neville Hardware establishment, where several dead bodies have been taken out. The relatives of several missing people fear their loved ones are still lying beneath debris.

Offers of assistance and drafts for financial aid have been reaching the relief committee so rapidly that refusal was hardly possible. It was again announced that money was not needed for relief purposes, the people of Meridian being amply able to take care of themselves.

COMEDY AT THE LIBERTY THEATER

The patrons of the Liberty Theater are to be given a rollicking comedy commencing tonight, "A Bold Sober Boy," will be played and Donald Bowles has the principal part in the new comedy. Good work is expected of him, as he always gives an account of himself. "Gerald Adair" is the character he is to portray. The part was originally written for Anderson Mack, who made his greatest impression in this play. John Raybold, another favorite of the company, will be seen in the part of "Dutch Pete," a character he has given much attention. Frank Bacon will be a Chinaman; George Bloomquist is cast for Barton Quimby, and L. R. Stockwell is cast in the part of Captain Fitzgerald. John O'Hara is now a member of the comedy company and fits in very snugly. The principal lady parts are in the hands of Miss Edmond and Mrs. Miss Gleason. This will be the first time this play has been presented on any Western stage. It was a success in the East. There is no reason why the theater should not be filled all week. Mr. Bowles will sing several songs that will fit the action of the play. Next week the Liberty patrons will be given an opportunity of seeing "A Virginia Courtship." "The Bold Sober Boy" will run all this week, then it will be transferred to the Majestic on the other side of the bay.

A GIRL BORN TO TARKINGTONS

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Tarkington have received a cablegram announcing the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Booth Tarkington Sunday in Rome, Italy. Mr. and Mrs. Booth Tarkington went abroad in October and spent some time in Italy. They were in Rome, and for the last few weeks have occupied the apartments of Mr. Simmons, the sculptor, in Rome. Mr. and Mrs. Tarkington will return to this country in April. This is the first granddaughter in the Tarkington family. Mrs. O. E. Jameson's children being three sons, and it is the fifth granddaughter in the Fletcher family. Mrs. Tarkington was Miss Louise Fletcher.—Indianapolis News.

COUNT BONI'S OLD CLASSMATE

Danielson, Conn.—A former classmate of another officer of Count Boni de Castellane has been a resident of this borough for about fifteen years. He is Count Edouard de Sargant d'Heudocourt, but he is known here by the more democratic patronymic of Edouard Sargent. He is an unusually skilful swordsman, and he occasionally gives instructions to his friends. He is a man of education and culture. The count quarreled with his family and came to America, but it is said he receives a monthly allowance. He says he does not envy his old classmate.—New York World.

Rev. Charles R. Brown.

It is a matter for public gratification that Rev. Charles R. Brown is to continue his ministrations in Oakland. The pulpit of the First Congregational Church has been noted for more than thirty years for its moral force and eloquence, for its leadership in Christian thought and civic righteousness. Dr. Brown has proved a worthy successor to those who preceded him. He has not only upheld the traditions of his pastorate, but has made himself a powerful factor in the life of the community at large. It would be a distinct loss to this city and the State at large if a man at once so useful, so influential and so earnest in his work should be called to another field.

Dr. Brown exhibits the same warm sympathy for the masses that distinguished Rev. J. K. McLean, who so long honored his cloth and exemplified Christian virtue as pastor of the First Congregational Church. He displays the same keen observant faculty, the same vigilant interest in the busy life around him for which Dr. McLean was noted; the same intelligent discrimination in regard to men and movements, the same perception of remote consequences waiting upon present occurrences. Withal he is a man with a broad grasp of fundamentals and a hearty contempt for narrow formalism.

In a more material aspect Dr. Brown's continued ministry in Oakland is to be regarded with satisfaction. He gives the city an enviable reputation abroad. A congregation capable of holding a pastor of such eloquence and spiritual power is as a beacon shining before all the land. It sheds a light that reflects honor and glory on the community, telling of the presence here of exalted piety, broad culture and an enlightened Christian spirit. It spreads afar an invitation for the better class of people to come and make their homes among us, for a community in which such men as Rev. C. R. Brown are held in high honor must be imbued with that which is best in Christian civilization. The people of Oakland are therefore to be congratulated that Dr. Brown is to remain among them.

Insurance Legislation Again.

Every occupation, calling and profession maintains a standing army of experts. These experts are employed to demonstrate the impracticability of every common sense proposition. They are the swashbucklers of their employers, and are expected to bully and browbeat every one who declares the existence of abuses or suggests remedies for them.

When THE TRIBUNE suggested that all voluntary life insurance, that is to say all persons who consulted a life insurance company with the object of securing a policy of life insurance, should be absolved from the necessity of paying a rate which includes a commission to a solicitor and the general agent, the expert was heard from at once. Just what he said is of no consequence. Anyone could readily anticipate what he would say. He would simply arrogate to himself superior wisdom and declare that ignorance which would interfere with the traditional and well-established policies of business, and the object of all these things, would be to secure to the life insurance companies a continuation of the privilege of doing just as they please and charging whatever rate they think fit, paying as large commissions as they see fit to solicitors and general agents, and robbing the public to their hearts' content.

The report of the Armstrong Investigating Committee in New York should be read by every American citizen. It declared that the Equitable Life Insurance Company had a surplus of $67,000,000 on the face of its books, and that that surplus did not take into account a balance in favor of agents and solicitors amounting to an excess over $7,000,000. In its recommendations it is not disposed to cut off solicitors' commissions on annual premiums entirely, but favored a commission on four annual premiums. It discloses clearly the fact that sixty-five per cent of the first premium, at least, is paid to the solicitor who persuaded the insured to take out a policy.

The investigating committee intimated that it would not recommend legislation which would prevent the solicitor from receiving a commission on three additional premiums.

What THE TRIBUNE suggested was that a law should be passed requiring every insurance company doing business in this State to file with the Secretary of State a table of rates, accompanied by a declaration of the amount of commission paid to solicitors and agents on each annual premium, and further to provide that all who voluntarily insured their lives should have the benefit of this premium. The insurance rate has been loaded to cover this expenditure, and when it is not incurred why should not the insured enjoy the benefit of it. Let us suppose a man voluntarily approaches an insurance company for an amount of insurance which would make his premium $1000 a year. It is admitted on all hands that the solicitor receives sixty-five per cent of the first annual premium, and there are companies paying as high as thirty to forty per cent on subsequent annual premiums. But, let the first commission stand alone, and what becomes of the $650 which would have gone to the solicitor if the insurance had been procured by way of solicitation? What inside grafter in the insurance company gets this $650? Does the company itself enjoy the benefit of this overcharge? Then, let us suppose that the suggestion of the Legislative Committee of New York limiting the participation of the solicitor to four annual premiums is adopted. Then let us assume that the subsequent commissions are forty per cent of the annual premium. The commission on the first premium would be $650, and those subsequently drawn $400 each, which would make a total subsequent premium of $1200, or a total commission drawn on the one policy of $1850.

The question occurs in the case of voluntary insurance: What high-salaried rascal gets this money? If it is declared that no individual gets it, but that it is carried to the company's surplus, then the policy holder has paid $1850 more than he should have paid for his insurance, because what remains after the commission is paid is a rate that has been carefully calculated to produce solvent insurance as well as to guarantee wide margins and ultimate dividends to policy holders.

When a Legislative Committee can soberly declare that a life insurance company has accumulated $67,000,000 more than would be necessary to produce a perfectly solvent condition of the insurer it is equivalent to the declaration that the company has robbed the policy holder to the extent of $67,000,000. Surplus means an amount which is in excess of that amount which would be sufficient to guarantee each policy holder against loss. That is to say, if the Equitable Life Insurance Company should lose at once $67,000,000 it would still be a perfectly solvent concern. This must be true, as otherwise this $67,000,000 could not have been characterized as surplus.

The swashbuckler experts have had their say, but they have not touched the question at issue. That question is susceptible of perspicuous formulation. Since insurance companies load their premiums to carry heavy commissions to solicitors, why should one who insures his life without solicitation be charged the full rate? We confront this phalanx of experts with the question already propounded: What inside grafter gets the commission in the case of voluntary insurance? The answer to this question will shed light on the whole subject, and we entertain the highest confidence that it will fully justify the legislative policy we have outlined.

The Stockton "Idee" Again.

It is a waste of time to carry on a discussion with a person of the calibre of the editor of the Stockton Mail. He belongs to the type of the proffer who asserted that the Bible declared there is no God. To prove it he quoted the last half of the sentence, "The fool in his heart saith there is no God." It is by this process that the Mail gets premises for its conclusion.

The cast of thought which presumes that calling an adversary an office boy refutes an argument or that the presence of a typographical error is proof of erroneous statement can only be viewed with pity and contempt. The editor of the Mail is evidently a kindred spirit to the man who vindicated himself of a specific charge of dishonesty by alleging that his accuser dyed his whiskers. Having set himself up as a protagonist of the doctrine that the government should own and operate the railroads, it attempts to prove its case by taking an isolated sentence from its context in an article dealing with a question collateral and subsidiary to the main proposition and insisting that the discussion shall be confined to that solitary expression.

The Mail declines to state how the government shall acquire the railroads or to explain how the rates can be heavily reduced without rendering the railroads unprofitable. It began by pointing to the Postal Department as an example of the success of government ownership. When it was shown that the Postal Department has been a losing business from the day of its inception, the Mail declared the annual deficit was due to the fact that the railroads were paid exorbitant sums for carrying the mails. To the statement that the deficit existed before the railroads were built it made no answer, but has twisted and turned like an impaled adder on the statement that the revenues of the railroads would shrink, either under government or private ownership, in precisely the amount shorn from the rates now paid for mail carriage.

It dismisses as unworthy of consideration the self-evident proposition that a loss of revenue in one direction must be compensated for by increases in other directions, or offset by economies, if there is not to be a decrease in the sums carried to profit. On the contrary, it prefers to quibble over phrases and statements torn from their context, and to display the manners and methods of the police court shyster—in other words, tries to stink his adversaries out of the controversy. A logician who pounces upon a missing syllable does not display perspicacity; he exhibits (to coin a word) bigassity. Let him bray his own triumph. There can be no competition with the manners of a monkey and the mental processes of a government mule. If the Nick Bottom of the Stockton Mail voices all that can be said in behalf of government ownership of railroads, the hee-haw may as well go unanswered.

An Ill-Advised Criticism.

With surprise and regret we observe that the San Francisco Bulletin manifests a disposition to scoff at the symphony concerts conducted in the Greek Theater at Berkeley under the direction of Dr. Wolle. The Bulletin does not depreciate the musical talent of Dr. Wolle or detract the high quality of the performances, but it scoffs at the musical taste and knowledge of those who attend the concerts, and thereby discourages attendance. It admits that the music is of the highest class, is beautifully rendered, and affords rare pleasure to those whose ears are sufficiently trained to enjoy them. But it asserts with something like a jeer that the great mass of those who attend do so because it is fashionable to hear the symphonies. It says they are destitute of musical taste and culture, and neither appreciate nor enjoy the divine harmonies spread before them.

This is all mere assumption. How does the esteemed Bulletin know who in an audience enjoy and appreciate music and who do not? By what warrant does it assume that the concerts are attended from a vulgar desire to be in the fashion? But, admitting for the sake of argument that the Bulletin's statement be true, why should it have been made at all? The concerts are distinctly educational in purpose. They were instituted to teach the public the beauties of the music of the best masters. If they call together those with untrained ears they will be accomplishing the very end for which they were inaugurated. They will promote musical culture and elevate the artistic taste of the masses. They will train the uneducated ear and teach the public to distinguish the good from the bad in music. If only those with trained musical ears attended the concerts, the attendance would be meager and the educational influence exerted by them trifling.

SWIFT JUSTICE THIS TIME.

An Oakland judge has sentenced a woman to one year's imprisonment in the city jail because she had induced her daughter to lead a life of shame and had caused the downfall of another girl who escaped from continuance in such a life after four days of misery. It is the fault of the lack of a law in the State adequately governing such cases that a longer sentence was not imposed. The judge expressed himself in indignant protest that the crime to which this unnatural mother pleaded guilty deserved a sentence of at least ten years, but he deplored the fact that his hands were tied and legal authority could be found only which authorized twelve months' incarceration. Think of it! The life of one girl irrevocably ruined, she herself tainted by the effects of a degrading life, which will mean that the years remaining to her will be ones of most intense misery; the life of another made scarcely less distressful by a briefer terrible experience, and the author of all these horrible results can be punished only by a term of imprisonment that is often meted out to those guilty of misdemeanors! It seems that the laws of this State should be amended or that an adequate statute providing fitting punishment for such crimes be enacted and that such a law be vigorously enforced. Oakland has gained an unenviable reputation by the laxity with which the laws governing the morals of the people have been enforced, but in this case the Oakland authorities are not blameable. Scarcely three days elapsed between the time of the discovery of the crime and its punishment, but the hands of the authorities were tied by lack of State law, and the guilty wretch will escape with punishment that in no way meets the ends of exact justice.—Reno Gazette.

There may be a shrewd trick in putting Tillman, disliked by the President, in charge of the rate bill. But Tillman refuses to be considered a joke; and if his colleagues really put him forward in the hope that his prominence in connection with the measure would discredit it, they are very likely to find that they have overreached themselves. The average American citizen does not take kindly to joking and trickery in the conduct and discussion of tremendously serious affairs, and the people are very much in earnest on the rate question.—Indianapolis News.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

PRaise FOR A FAMOUS MEDICINE

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just In Time.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words."

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years, and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for almost before your instructions were sent me I was free of all my troubles, and I became regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day."

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of an organ, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

For 35 years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

THE FATE OF EMPERORS.

An anecdote, hitherto unpublished, concerning Archduke Francis Charles, father of the Emperor of Austria, appears in a new book written by a retired diplomat, says our Vienna correspondent.

During a walk alone in the Styrian hills the archduke got into conversation with a talkative farmer, who, after giving a good deal of information about his own family, suddenly asked the archduke:

"What's your father?"

"Emperor," was the answer.

"Look here," said the farmer, "if you want to be funny don't you shout. There are gendarmes about, and you might easily get run in for lese majesty! I dare say you're a brother. What's he?"

"O, he's an emperor, too."

"Well, you're a funny chap," said the farmer, laughing heartily. "Have you any children?"

"Yes, thank God; there's my boy, Francis Joseph."

"What's he?"

"Emperor."

"Ha, ha!" roared the farmer, digging the father of emperors in the ribs. "Have you any more sons of that sort?"

"Yes, a second called Max."

"Isn't he an emperor?"

"Yes, he is also an emperor."

After relieving his feelings by giving a wild leap in the air the farmer clapped the archduke on the shoulder and said: "Look here, old friend. The next time you're passing Mariaszell asylum drop in and see if there happens to be a place vacant."—From the London Mail.

CLOSING THE GATES.

To this day the great gates in the walls of Peking are closed every evening with the queer ceremonies that have been observed for centuries past. Says the Peking and Tientsin Times. "The daily performance is marked with a due ceremony which is quaint and full of interest to the intelligent onlooker, as the closing by no means signifies the mere bringing together of the heavy wooden doors and the banging of the emperor's highway against a corner. At the appointed hour a preliminary signal is given by a large gong or iron bell being struck with a big iron bar fifty times in each quick succession as almost to defy calculation, and this is followed by 100 double strokes commencing slowly and dreamily for the first half and gradually increasing to half hurricane rapidity; and this set of 100 blows is repeated in precisely the same manner three times. When the third and last cycle of gong strokes is entered on, a number of old and, at this season, very much bewarded by the emperor's staff, a series of small, ornate, and all sundry, are beaten or rung to shut out, and this combination of signals is followed by a jangling stream of people from both directions.

Presently the rush slackens until only a solitary pedestrian, or possibly a man on a donkey, full tilt, a belated richkiah, or a heavily laden cart struggles through. The movement is made with the gates, a yelling burst of effort and the gates being mean-while half closed and occasionally opened a little way again, until the outgoing having meanwhile ceased, there is a final flourish to get into the city, and the gates closing, which has taken some half hour in all, is concluded.

"Then, the huge iron-plated doors having clanged to, a monster iron pole is dragged up and placed across them from iron supports, being retained in position by a padlock of enormous proportions and the well-known Chinese type. There are in all in the city of Peking some nineteen gates and the same ceremony is observed at each, but at such thoroughfare as the Hsiangmen there is naturally more traffic and the process is probably proportionately longer."

CHORUS GIRL WHO READ BUCKLE.

Theatrical life is not quite so democratic as the public sometimes imagines. No smart set can be more exclusive than the principals of some companies in their deportment toward the support. A young woman who had an ambition to act managed to get a small part by means of her social connections and joined the company incognito. The play treated theatrical life, and one of the scenes represented a rehearsal in progress. The aspiring young actress was a chorus girl. During the long wait she used to take refuge in the dark seclusion of a box and read by the light from the stage. Here she was discovered by Miss Millie James, who had the leading part. "Miss James fell into awkward conversation, and took up the book 'It was Buckle's History of Civilization."

"Fancy!" she exclaimed. "A chorus girl reading a book with a title like that!"

As it turned out Miss James surprise was quite justified. At the end of four long, suffering weeks the young woman who read Buckle's History of Civilization no longer fancied being a chorus girl, and slipped back into private life.—Saturday Evening Post.

MUST BE FRESH.

"See here," exclaimed the husband of the fashionable invalid, "what's the idea of the doctor coming here again today?"

"My gracious!" she exclaimed, petulantly, "he has come to leave my fresh medicine. You don't suppose I'd use yesterday's, do you?"—Catholic Standard and Times.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs mean powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be the chief study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this.

Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for chest and lung troubles. Guaranteed by Osgood Bros., druggists, Twelfth and Washington streets and Seventh and Broadway. Prices, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A recent traveler to Tahiti remarks: "For a tired-out business man, a nervous exhausted individual, this is the ideal ocean passage, possessing advantages which probably are not to be found in any other part of the world. A distinct change from the coast climate of California to the balmy breezes of the South Ocean brings to the voyager a feeling of refreshment and peace."

Mariposa sails March 11. Reduced round trip rate for this voyage, $125. Send for circular, 555 Market St., San Francisco.

GRAND JURY SAYS PROGRESSIVE EUCBRE IS UNLAWFUL GAMBLING

CYNTHIANA, Ky., March 5.—The pink tea where society plays progressive euchre and gives prizes to winners has the same degrading influence as the gambling house where roulette and poker are the attractions, the difference being only one of degree. This is the report made by the Grand Jury to the Judge of the Harrison county court. It matters very little, say the jurymen, whether the prize for winning be a silver thimble or a silver dollar.

After expressing this opinion the inquisitors officially demand that an investigation be made of progressive euchre parties, and that all offenders be indicted under the anti-gambling laws. The report says in part:

"Progressive euchre parties are made alluring with prizes, refreshments and knowledge that the local papers will print the names of the guests and winners. All are common gamblers, and deserve to be fined."

The jury's action has aroused resentment in social circles, and the feeling was accentuated Sunday when several ministers took the view of the Grand Jury.

SOME AFFAIRS OF THE SMART SET

Engagements Announced, Dates for Club Meetings, Dinners and Card Parties Planned for the Week.

Two events of social importance will take place tomorrow, the marriage of Miss Aphie Vance and William O. Morgan, on this side of the bay and the Huntington-Metcalf wedding in San Francisco.

The marriage of Miss Vance and Mr. Morgan will be celebrated in the beautiful home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Vance, of Webster street. Two hundred friends have received cards, and the wedding promises to be a very pretty affair in an admirable setting.

Miss Ruth Palmer will attend the bride as maid of honor and Miss Mabel McCarty of Vacaville and Miss Bessie Benton will act as bridesmaids.

The officiating clergyman will be the Rev. Charles R. Brown, assisted by the Rev. Griffith Griffiths.

Frank Parsons will act as best man. Mr. Morgan and his bride will spend six months in travel, and on their return will make their home in this city.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Huntington and Brockway Metcalf will be a quiet event, although one of the most important of the year, and will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards Huntington.

Miss Huntington will be attended by her sister Miss Marion, and the groom will be supported by Mr. Roeding.

RUSKIN CLUB.

The Stanford-California night of the Ruskin Club was celebrated Friday evening with a banquet given at one of the cafes across the bay. Frederick Irons Bamford presided, and on this occasion about fifty students of the California and Stanford Universities were entertained by the club.

Cameron H. King Jr. read a paper on "Self-Seeking and Serving."

The speeches and music were features of the evening and a discussion was led by Walter V. Holloway on the "Scientific Socialist."

During the evening a number of college songs were rendered by the students of the universities. At eleven o'clock the Stanford students were compelled to take their leave in order to catch the last train for Palo Alto, while some of those remaining in San Francisco with the Berkeley men and members of the Ruskin Club prolonged the discussion until a late hour.

Among those in attendance from Stanford were Arthur Joel, Harvey C. Clark, C. A. Ball, Marcus Wolf, W. L. Blair, L. A. Lane and R. D. Fleming.

From the University of California—Harry L. Sully, Max W. Stern, Peter Graf, John C. Eppinger, A. E. Anderson, Henry Stoddard, Gordon Edwards, Carl Hoffman, Percy J. Meter and J. E. Rogers.

From Oakland High School—George J. Hatfield.

The Ruskin men were W. V. Holloway, Frederick Irons Bamford, John M. Reynolds, H. G. Walker, George J. Smith, A. A. Denison, Cameron H. King Jr., T. P. D. Gray, David L. Lyon, John L. Burnside, Rev. Robert Whitaker.

Fred R. Winter of Richmond, Wisconsin was also a guest of the club.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

Mrs. F. Ross, of 115 Tenth street, announces the engagement of her only daughter, Mildred F., to Harry Cohn of Biggs, Cal. Miss Ross is an accomplished girl, with a large circle of friends.

Harry Cohn is a native of San Francisco, but has lived for many years in Butte county, and is a successful business man of the north. The wedding will take place early in April.

TO VISIT HERE.

Mrs. John C. Havemeyer, Miss Alice Havemeyer and Miss Alice Jones will return shortly from New York, and after a visit here will sail for Hawaii and the Orient.

SPINNERS' CLUB.

Miss Bertha Rickoff was hostess at the meeting last Tuesday of the Spinners' Club. The afternoon proved to be very interesting. There were readings and discussions by Elmer B. Harris on Bjornson's "Beyond Human Power."

HOME CLUB.

"Tomorrow evening at the Home Club Professor Henry Morse Stephens will give the ninth lecture of the course of lectures which have been attracting the attention of literary and society people about the bay.

"The subject announced is 'The Political Historians, Allison, Hallam, Macaulay, Thiers, Droysen and Bancroft."

AT DINNER.

Benedict Taylor was host Saturday evening at an informal dinner given at the Claremont Country Club. The complimentary guest was Miss Abba Church. Among others present were Miss Elizabeth McNear, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lacy Brayton, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Stone, Paul Miller, Edgar Rickard.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Macdonald were among those entertaining at the Country Club Saturday evening. They have just returned from a very pleasant Southern trip.

YOUNG PIANIST.

Albert I. Elkus the talented young pianist of this city, gave a piano recital recently before the Saturday Club of Sacramento.

The program, which was quite comprehensive, was as follows: Schumann—Scenes from Childhood (andantino); "Curious Story," "Catch Me If You Can," "Enteatic Child," "Contentedness," "Important Event," "Dreaming," "By the Fireside," "Child Falling Asleep"; Chopin—Mazurka, B minor, op. 33, No. 4; etude, F minor, op. 25, No. 2; waltz B minor, op. posthumous; Albert I. Elkus—Fantasy sonata, 1 (4-4) tempo rubato—quasi una fantasia; 2 (5-4) adagio maestoso; 3 (4-4) allegro con fuoco; Russian composers—Rachmaninoff—Prelude, op. 3, No. 2; Scriabin—Prelude, op. 11, No. 13, op. 2, op. 11, No. 4; Youferoff—"Spinning Song, Schytte—"Slumber Song"; Tschalkowski—Valse, scherzo; Wagner—Liszt—"Isolda's Love—Death (finale to 'Tristan and Isolda'); Mendelssohn—Scherzo capriccioso, E minor; Liszt—Legend, "St. Francis Walking on the Waters" (St. Francis of Paula, being called to Sicily to build a convent, found it necessary to cross the Straits of Calabaria, but having no money, was refused passage by the fishermen. Whereupon he cast his mantle on the waves and confidently walked across. As he walked, a great tempest arose, but, upon his speaking to the waves, they became calm. He reached Sicily in safety and gave thanks on high—Legend of St. Francis of Paula).

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Pendleton was the scene of a happy gathering last Tuesday evening when three birthdays were celebrated, that of H. G. Pendleton and of Misses F. Adams and B. Goode who are staying at the Pendleton home.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Pickrel, Judge Haight, Mrs. Haight, Mrs. Rotman, Mr. and Mrs. James, Mrs. Burton, the Misses B. Goode, F. Adams, Patterson, Pracey, Howe, McGowan, Fuller, the Messrs. Wilson, H. Stevens, O. Newman, W. Varton, F. Harvey, Wetzel, N. W. Pendleton, H. L. Lyon, W. Burckhalter, D. Brown, Es-sell.

INFORMAL AFFAIR.

Miss Mary Alexander was hostess Friday afternoon at a meeting of the trustees and matrons of the Mary R. Smith Cottage homes. A luncheon and musical preceded the social hour, and the affair was quite enjoyable. Twenty-five guests participated.

SOCIAL AFFAIR.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was an entertainment and dance held at Odd Fellows' Hall, Friday evening, by the young people of East Oakland.

The hall was decorated for the occasion, with lilies and foliage.

The time was pleasantly spent in music and dancing. The most enjoyable part of the program were selections on the violin by Roy Hess, accompanied by Miss Hazel Hess and Miss Hazel Bunker.

Miss Pauline Sotthor and Homer La Ballister furnished the music for the dancing.

The evening was under the management of Mrs. McNell and Mrs. Hess.

Those invited were Miss Mildred McNeill, Miss Ivy Curtis, Miss Thill, Frierson, Miss Alice Libby, Miss Pauline Seither, Miss Hazel Hess, Miss Hazel Bunker, Miss Lena Cameron, Miss May Masterson, Miss Mary Stet-sin, Miss Vera Bluel, Miss Ethel Roe, Miss Margaret Morehouse, Miss Margaret Raphael, Miss Ina Hussy, Miss Irene and Norma Dearborn, Miss Ida Webb, Miss Anita Harris, Miss Geneva, and Ida Gromberg, Miss Clair Whitney, Miss Ethel Healey, Miss Josie Ench, Miss Eunice and Margaret Lingo, Miss Della Griffin, Miss Eunice and Phyllis Rickets, Miss Alice Greene, Frank Seither, Roy Hess, Harry Carlson, Edward and Herbert Steinbach, Tommy Wheelin, Henry Steinbach, Willie Hogan, John Connard, Howard Ford, Carl Robertson, Percy Libby, Frank Gilliam, Blah Lockhart, Guy McKown, Archie Raphael, John O'Harrad, Newton Holden, LeRoy Morgan, Charlie Copland, Leo Stetsin, Walter Ericson, Edward Budd, Homer La Ballister, Frank Rankan, Ralph Shaw, Mr. Mozart and Stanley Henshaw.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. Edward Lacy Brayton entertained Saturday afternoon at a delightful sewing bee.

Mr. and Mrs. James Watson McClure have given up their Alice street home and have taken apartments at the Metropole.

Mrs. Cecil Jackson is here from New York, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Brayton of Jackson street.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. M. Gardiner entertained a number of young friends recently at a birthday party planned for their daughter, Irene Gardiner.

The home was prettily decorated and the hours were pleasantly spent with music and games. Supper was served.

PERSONALS.

Charles Tenney Jackson, author of "Lovers' Luck," who has been staying for some time at the Piedmont home of J. B. Richardson, has gone to Modesto to temporarily resume editorial charge of the Evening News.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Robertson (Dickens Cool), who are having great success in Juneau, Alaska, had their contract renewed for several weeks longer.

Mrs. David Rutherford returned this week on the Manchuria, after a six months' visit in Honolulu, where she was extensively entertained.

Don't take stock in anything that doesn't pay a fair and honest dividend.

WOMAN CRIES "RETURN MY HAT OR GO TO PRISON"

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 5.—In the heart of the shopping district, this afternoon, a woman darted out of the crowd, threw her arms around another woman and screamed, "Police, police, police!"

Officer McFarland heard the cries, and ran to the two women. "What's the matter?" he asked.

"She's got my hat on. It's mine. She stole it!" screamed the woman, who had plinked the other.

"Let go. She's crazy," screamed back the other woman.

The street was filled with women, and a crowd gathered. The officer took both women with him to the police station, and there this story was unfolded:

"Mrs. Elzaphan Roe went into the waiting room of a store ten days ago and laid her $20 hat upon a table while she powdered her face. When she reached for her hat it was gone. Today, upon Petticoat lane, she saw her hat. She grabbed the wearer and the arrest followed. The arrested woman said she was Mrs. W. P. Piper.

"I didn't steal the hat," she said. "I was in the waiting room of the Owl store, and lady there said to me, 'Here's a hat that was left. You can have it.' I took the hat and went out. That's all there is to it."

SENSATIONAL FIGURES AT RECENT COTILLION DANCE

CAUX, March 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Watson Low have created something of a sensation among the Americans visiting here by the original features which they introduced at a recent cotillion. Among the most curious figures was one in which two gentlemen tickled each other's noses with peacock feathers. The first one to grin lost the lady.

CURE FOR LIQUOR HABIT? SUNDAY HOME WITH BABIES

BOSTON, March 5.—What would the Boston father of a numerous and lively young family do were he sentenced, as was his counterpart of the big Windy City, last Saturday, and only for drunkenness, "to remain at home on Sundays with your family in the future, read the papers, play with the babies and smoke your pipe?"

"Getting drunk on Sunday is the only pleasure a poor man has in life," he answered, when asked to explain his conduct.

"How long have you been in the practice of getting drunk on Sunday?" demanded he justice.

"Ever since I can remember. I never stay sober on that day," was the answer.

"Have you ever tried staying at home?"

"No, I have always considered getting a jag part of my week's work."

The justice, as he promised, changed the man's program for him.

"Have mercy, your Honor!" the prisoner suddenly cried out at the prospect of such a Sunday at home.

"Please give me six months instead."

But the judge obdurately declined to change the sentence.

BEAUTY OF WOMEN SPOILED BY AMBITIOUS CHEFS

LONDON, March 5.—A deadly enemy to the society girl's complexion has been discovered in modern cookery, in which highly flavored hors-d'oeuvre and savories play a prominent part.

The vogue for face massage and other forms of beauty treatment for young girls of an age which formerly required nothing of the kind has come in since the appearance of the "restaurant habit" and elaborate dinners and suppers in the fashionable world.

Girls who indulge in strong diet and smoke cigarettes, says a medical authority, cannot expect to retain their complexions of milk and roses. As a result the beauty doctor and the masseuse are called in to repair the ravages wrought by the "cordon blue" chef, but they cannot entirely succeed.

WEEK

STRODE'S WORK
AID TO PALACE

It can be safely said that Barney Schreiber has shown the best two-year-old and the best three-year-old of the present California racing season. Horace E. will be seen in action here next Saturday, and he should capture the Undine stake without turning a hair. A two-year-old that can run five furlongs in a minute in the month of March is no ordinary two-year-old. Dr. Gardner will make his reappearance the latter part of the week in all probability. This youngster has displayed better form than any other three-year-old in California.

Both Horace E. and Dr. Gardner are sired by Eumecene, a great race horse in his day. He carried the Schreiber colors out here one season, and ran a mile over the Oaklands in 1:30.

ASCOT SEASON
DRAWS TO A CLOSE

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—Ascot has raced eighty-one of its allotted ninety days, but as the original date of closing falls on Wednesday, March 14, it has been officially announced that the meeting will be extended three days, with a remote chance of running possible a week longer. Now that the investigations have ended, severe penalties handed McCafferty and Dugan, local turfmen, has returned to normal conditions and the closing days' program, as at other points, will be made up of non-winners.

Many Eastern horsemen are getting ready to leave for Ascot. J. L. McGinnis sold most of his horses on last Thursday. J. A. Varnburg reported for New York after placing his horses in charge of F. B. Van Meter. McCafferty has announced a sale of horses on Tuesday, after which he will leave. Dugan will ship East as soon as he can get suitable cars for his horses. He feels very badly over his suspension and has a large influence working toward having the ruling modified. Yearlings purchased at the fall sale in New York by Dugan cost in the neighborhood of $75,000, and he has John W. Gates and Drake recently interested, the year's suspension will cause him to lose the greatest opportunity of his life.

Jockey Miller again carried off the riding honors of the week, with six winners; McDaniels and Kent, five; Harris four; Preston and H. Jackson three. For the entire meeting McDaniels leads with sixty-two, Miller sixty, Booker, twenty-nine, Buchanan twenty-four, Swain, Wiley twenty-two, Jackson twenty, Preston nineteen, Kent sixteen, Aubuchon fifteen, Dugan, Davis, Kunz, Walsh fourteen, B. Powell thirteen, J. Harris twelve.

YOUNGEST IN UMPIRING
BUSINESS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 5.—The Southern League will boast of the youngest umpire in years in the business this year. William J. Buckley, who comes recommended by Billy Carpenter, a Southern favorite who has been called to the big league, is barely out of his teens, but players who worked under him in the New York State League say that although he is young in years he is old in experience, and enforces the rules to the letter, with a fair deal to all. He was about to sign in an Eastern League this season, but he accepted terms from President Kavanaugh, after Carpenter had recommended him, and after Carpenter had advised Buckley to take at least one season under the protective wing of the Southern president, who has been noted for sticking up for his diamond dictators. Buckley is a native of Rochester, N. Y.

BASEBALL GOSSIP FROM THE WILDS OF THE NORTH

SEATTLE, March 5.—Rushtheana Hall, the boy manager of the Seattle baseball team is feeling pretty good over baseball matters, for he has his team practically signed, and has made arrangements for his hold athletes to report at Santa Barbara March 14. The lot of the ballplayer is certainly a hard one. This thing of having to go to the swellest winter resort on the Coast, and live at one of the best hotels, absolutely free of expense, while trotting around the park just enough to get up a good vigorous appetite, must strike a good vigorous man who has nothing to do, but work, as pretty hard lines, but the bold athletes are a patient bunch, and try to submit to their lot without kicking. The boys will put in about three weeks and a half at the watering place, and should be ready to open the season with dash and relish. Blankenship and Frary reported there yesterday. Frary had been wintering at the race tracks, but he put on a sub to get the dope, while he went to Santa Barbara to get some much needed rest. Rube Vickers is due there today, and Oscar Jones will run up from Los Angeles the last of the week.

TENNIS CRACKS REACH THE FINALS

Carl Gardner and Charles Foley reached the final round in the Alameda county championship tennis tournament yesterday at the Golden Gate Park courts. They will meet next Sunday to decide who shall play George Baker, the present champion, for the title. Fred Adams and George James, State and Coast champions respectively, were defeated in the third and semi-final rounds.

C. Griffen put the coast champion out of the competition. The young player with the speedy chop stroke proved very fast at the net. His sharp and swift volleying kept James so much on the defensive that he failed to get a set. The score in favor of Griffen was 6-4, 6-3.

C. Foley and Adams had a close match with the honors about even until the last set. Foley took the first set, Score 7-5. The State champion came back strong in the second set, which he won, Score 7-5. For the first few games in the third set the score ran even. At two games all, Foley jumped into a winning streak and ran out the set and match with the loss of but one game. Score 6-2. In the other semi-final match Gardner disposed of Griffen after a close three-set match. Score, 4-6, 7-6, 10-8.

E. Johnson defeated B. Ellsworth in the final match for the fourth class in one game. Score 6-2. In the other only match played in the third class. Score 7-5, 6-1.

TRACK

The Emeryville jockeys divided up last week's honors so evenly that no one boy was able to get a conspicuous lead over another. Graham scored the largest number of firsts—five, besides a second and two thirds, which improved his position in the money list. The evenness continued his good work of the previous week by scoring four firsts, three seconds and five thirds, which advanced him to eighth place. Knapp, with three wins, four seconds and two thirds out of twelve mounts during the week, still stands second on the list, with Radtke, now several weeks absent, still the one in the lead.

Leroy Williams the crack colored rider, making his reappearance after an illness of several weeks, started in exceedingly well by scoring four firsts, a second and a third out of nine mounts. Schubert scored three firsts and two seconds out of seven mounts—a fine showing. Robinson rode three winners, while Fountain, Clark, Dugan, Wright and Russell each scored twice. Eruss rode in the money six times out of the nine chances he had.

It is in the record of the boys who have ridden three or more winners during the season:

REID DECLARES FOOTBALL IS NO SPORT

BOSTON, March 5.—"Football has ceased to be a sport, but is a business of winning." "The great evils of the present day game are due to professional coaches and professional methods, business methods." "No man whose standards are of a higher order would care to take up football or athletics as a life work." "Every college will take a stand against proselytizing is not in the game to raise athletic standards; it is there to win and make a reputation."

Thus did Head Coach "Bill" Reid, head of the Harvard team, declare against football in an address before the New England alumni of the University of Vermont.

"Football is a game," he continued, "which will develop either a gentleman or a ruckee—a gentleman if it is played in true spirit of sportsmanship, a ruckee if the rules are abused and unfair advantage of opponents is taken. The English have the right way of it. They go into sports for the fun of sport; winning and losing are secondary considerations. We will lose fifty men on the Harvard squad next season and five brilliant varsity men, to comply with new conditions."

Mal Kittling has been connected with a roller skating rink in Norfolk for three months and is now coaching the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh, N. C., where he will remain until the Washington Club begins training at Charlottesville, Va.

DUNLEAVY, HOGAN,
IBURG, EMERSON
TO BE REPLACED

The directors of the Oakland baseball Club have decided to wait * * * no longer for the signatures of the * * * four men who are holding out for * * * a greater salary than the club * * * considers them worth, and will * * * proceed at once to sign other men * * * to take their places.
* * * These men are Hogan, Dun- * * * leavy, Iburg and Emerson, three * * * being pitchers and one an out- * * * fielder, as is well known. Prac- * * * tically everyone else on the team * * * has signed up. Graham, the only * * * other man whose signature had * * * not been received at the close of * * * last week, is expected to sign be- * * * fore nightfall today, as terms * * * have been agreed upon, and only * * * the formal signing of the papers * * * is yet to be done.

The directors have been waiting patiently for Dunleavy, Hogan and Iburg to make up their minds whether they would accept the terms offered or not, but now declare that they can wait no longer, as the beginning of training is so near that it is unsafe to leave the team incomplete to a later date.

Manager Van Haltren said this morning: "We shall proceed at once to fill these places. We have an out-fielder in Southern California whose name we cannot mention, but who is an excellent man, and whom we think we can sign almost at a moments notice; we shall proceed to take him. He has never played in the big leagues, but has refused many offers to do so, and has made a brilliant record playing with independent teams. He is a good hitter and should make a valuable man for us."

"I don't think we shall get Farke Wilson, as it is reported he will accept San Francisco's terms and stay there. We may take another catcher south with us, however, in addition to Hackett and Oswald."

The following are those who have signed: Hopkins, Blexrud, Graham, Smith, pitchers; Hackett, Oswill, catchers; Hackett, Markeley, Francks, Moriarity, Devereaux, infielders; Kruger, Van Haltren, outfielders.

NEW BASEBALL
YARNS FOR FANS

Tales That Make Faithful Long for Season.

"One of the most remarkable phenomena I recall," remarks Willie Keeler of the New York American League, "occurred when Joe Kelley, McGraw and myself were taking in the sights of Paris some years ago."

"As perhaps you know, the Faubourg St. Antoine intersects the Rue St. Denis at the junction of the Marais Arondissement and the Latin Quarter. I may not have the streets just right, but anyhow I never saw so many corners in one block. Kelley always carried two or three baseballs in his pocket, never knowing when he might meet an umpire. Well, one balmy summer evening we were standing on the Rue St. Denis near the intersection I have mentioned, and Kelley seized me by the arm."

"Isn't that Hank O'Day?" he whispered, pointing at a distant figure.

HARD BALL.

"I nodded assent and Joe selected a nice hard ball from his collection. 'Now watch me,' he said. 'I am going to hit O'Day in the block and he won't know where the ball came from, either. Watch the curve I put on this.' With that he let drive. The ball started toward the Faubourg St. Antoine, broke sharply through the Latin Quarter, described a sharp curve around the Eiffel Tower and landed flush on O'Day's right ear. I don't know whether it was the atmospheric condition that sent the ball through such a weird zigzag, or the absence we had been sleeping."

"What happened to O'Day?"

"That's the funny part of it," said Keeler. "It wasn't O'Day at all. It was a French count. But he certainly did look like Hank."

ANOTHER TALE.

"Practical joking doesn't pay," declared Chuck Griffith, looking dreamily out over the noisy city from his perch in the tall building.

"When we were doing our spring training back in 1887, down in a little burg in Alabama, I was trying out two brush leaguers who lived in that neighborhood. One of them, a lad named O'Toole, was a great cut-up, who kept the village in convulsions from one year's end to the other. His side partner was a big, powerful fellow, whom we had treated as a sort of butt, and he was certainly pite for Mr. O'Toole.

SMALL BOMB.

"One day O'Toole came out to the park with a small bomb, which he had painted white and rubbed in the dirt until it looked like a base ball. His big friend was at the bat, getting his eye into shape for the season which he hoped he would spend with us. O'Toole stepped in the pitcher's box and lobbed up that bomb, saying, 'Hit it a mile, if you can.' The big fellow swung his bat ferociously and caught the imitation ball square on the nose. We all shut our eyes—and then something happened. That bomb had been struck so hard that it started for O'Toole, exploding on the way, but not really getting down to business until it landed in the small of the retreating joker's back. There was a deafening roar, a cloud of smoke and some pieces of uniform floated away on the breeze. Nothing was ever found of O'Toole. We took the other fellow on the road with us, but he, too, blew up later in the season and was released."

SPAULDING HOCKEY TEAM WINS IN ANOTHER GAME

The Spaulding Hockey team conclusively demonstrated its superiority at the game of roller hockey by piling up the score of four goals to one at the Piedmont rink against the crack aggregation from White's academy of Berkeley on Saturday morning, after having beaten the Heeseemans 2 to 1 on Friday evening.

The team work of the Spauldings was a surprise to every one present, as after the strain of the even before, it was not expected that the team would be very lively. The game against White's Academy was played before the Saturday Morning Skating Club, whose members were unanimous in declaring that hockey was by far the most exciting of indoor sports. This is the fourth game of hockey that has been played in the vicinity and the high schools about the bay are seriously thinking of organizing teams and playing the game taken up as an A. L. sport, as recently announced by THE TRIBUNE.

The line up of the Spaulding team is as follows: Forwards, E. Walton, L. Walton; coverpoint, Belcher; point, McElrath; goal, Farnum; substitutes, Smith and Butler.

The White's Academy team was composed of Haywards and Tate, forwards; Hechtman, coverpoint; Bangs, point; and Ellis, goal.

Van Ness Taylor refereed the game, and Mark Anthony kept the time.

BOXERS WORKING HARD FOR RELIANCE CLUB BOUTS

The boxing gloves and the punching bag were kept busy in the Reliance Club gymnasium yesterday by aspiring young boxers preparing themselves for the boxing contests to be held next Wednesday night.

The Reliance Club gymnasium is to be the scene of six four-round contests that bid fair to bring out the fastest lads who have ever been seen in Oakland.

Each bout carded for that night gives every indication of being a warmly contested one and the spectators should be kept in a thrill from the tap of the bell for the initial event until the last bout is over.

Henry Louque, who is to meet Frank Gordon in one of the main events, boxed four of the fastest rounds seen in the gymnasium for some time. Frank McConnell, acting under orders, went right in to mix things from the jump with him and as Louque was never known to break ground, the few that saw the set to witnessed a fast and furious four rounds.

Gordon is of the aggressive style, of boxer and should keep Louque hustling all the way.

The club was particularly lucky in securing Walter Stanton and Jack Burk to appear in the other main event, as those boys are as fast and clever welterweights as there are on the coast. Each man has a long string

NEVER LOST DECISION.

Stanton fought several times in the amateur clubs in Frisco and never lost a decision in any of the contests. Eddie Munroe is working hard for his fight with Ed Robinson of Berkeley, and says he is going to show the fans that he can go on the aggressive and win inside of four rounds. Robinson appears to be a hard man to beat, but he has met and it is for this reason that Munroe is so anxious to win.

J. Evans vs. J. Konkel, Young Gaulty vs. "SpMer" Swain, and Loren Brown vs. J. Crowe make up the entire card.

Raised seats have been placed all around the balcony and every one who has a ticket will be able to get a seat and have no trouble in seeing the contestants in action. There are five rows, each elevated eighteen inches above the other so that the people on the rear seat will have an unobstructed view of the ring.

The seats were placed on sale at Devereaux's cigar store this morning, and judging from the advance sale the spectators' gymnasium will again be filled when the contests start.

OAKLAND HORNETS WIN
FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The Oakland Hornets have won the point competition of the California Association Football League championship series, with a score of 27 points out of a possible 28 for 14 games played.

For four weeks at the beginning of the season the Independents, winners of last season, held first place, but lost it to the Hornets, who maintained it consistently until the close of the season. The Independents and the Vampires, who are tied for second place with twenty points each, have agreed to play a deciding game, rather than decide the position on goal averages.

The victory of the Hornets gave general satisfaction, as they have played clean ball throughout the season, endeavoring in every way to keep the game before the public as a pure amateur sport. Christensen, the famous outside left forward of the Hornets, was compelled to return to Japan two weeks before the end of the season. Christensen is a Japanese.

SHELL MOUND SEASON
OPENS WITH BIG SHOOT

Yesterday was the opening of the season at Shell Mound, and Captain Seibe, to inaugurate the twenty-seventh year of his incumbency, had arranged a competition shoot of exceptional interest, including $200 in cash prizes, four for the first and last bullseyes in the morning and in the afternoon, besides $100 in cash prizes for bowling. For the entertainment of families and friends of the shooters a fine program was arranged, and the park was well patronized while the competition on the range kept the targets bobbing up and down all day. The large pavilion was crowded with dancers and those who did not dance found some enjoyment in watching the park and enjoying other amusements.

LOCALS LOSE TO CHICAGO
METEORS

The famous Chicago basketball team, the Meteors, which stopped here last Saturday night on its 10,000-mile trip of triumphs, took occasion to add another victory to its long list by defeating the team from the Reliance Club, at the gymnasium of the latter organization.

Although the visitors won, they had to work hard to do so, and not a point was scored that was not vigorously opposed by the locals. The final score was thirty to eighteen, in favor of the Meteors, so it will be seen that while the Windy City lads were running up their score, the Reliance boys also were not idle.

The Chicagoans certainly showed the spectators how the game of basketball should be played, and since the Reliance team is by no means backward in the fine arts of the sport, the contest, therefore, was a delight to the eye.

CLEAN CONTEST.

The game was one of the cleanest and best that the Reliance boys have ever played. The Eastern style of play differs greatly from the Western, but the latter makes much the prettier game.

The Reliance team outplayed the Meteors in team work, but was weak on goals. However, a few weeks' practice should put the locals in good trim.

The line-ups were as follows: Reliance—Harold Baker, Dalton McLeod, forwards; Roland Eganhoff, "Steak" Teal, guards; Theodore Hook, I. G. Ball, centers. Meteors—Neill, left forward; Fubier, right forward; Dowse, center; Harris, right guard; Tourtelot, left guard; Corper, right guard; Hahn, manager. Dowse, Harris and Corper are University of Chicago students.

FRESHMEN WIN.

The preliminary game between the Berkeley High School and the University of California Freshmen was won by the latter by a score of 24 to 15.

A game is to be held at the next ladies night of the club, March 21, which will be open to the public.

There was a concert by the orchestra during the forenoon and during the dinner hour.

The University Rifle Team held its practice on Saturday, making excellent scores, and a number of clubs had their target practice yesterday.

MANY PRESENT.

The following organizations were represented at the range: Deutscher Krieger Verein, German Mound Pistol and Rifle Club, Maccabee Rifles, Oakland Turner Schuetzen and Independent Rifles.

Prizes in the Captain Seibe annual contests: Man target, possible 80 points: A. J. Strickland, 78; Herman Huber 74, William P. Garmes 73, R. C. Holmquist 69, F. P. Schuster 72, R. C. ALAMEDA

Public Meeting Is Held to Discuss the Project.

"Now, I do not mean in all this to say that you ought to favor manual training in the public schools unless you are honestly convinced that it is a good thing, and that it is going to accomplish the thing that you want to accomplish by education. But I do say that there is in what Mr. Petray has told you, and in what others have said about this subject, something to be considered. You could not please me per-

When a Sore or Ulcer is slow in healing it is the best evidence of a diseased condition of the blood and a disordered system. They show that the bodily impurities, which should pass off through the natural channels of nature, are being retained in the system from some cause. The blood absorbing the waste matters becomes steeped in poison which finds an outlet through the Sore or Ulcer, keeping it inflamed, painful and festering. As the blood constantly discharges its poison into these places, they eat deeper into the surrounding flesh and tissues, growing larger and more offensive in spite of all the sufferer can do, until the entire health is affected. Washes, salves, powders and such treatment are desirable for the reason that they are cleansing and also help to relieve the pain, but they are in no way curative. The blood is filled with poison, and until it is removed the sore cannot heal. S. S. S. is the only cure for these evidences of impure blood. It goes down to the root of the trouble and cleanses the circulation of all poisons and impurities. S. S. S. enriches the blood and reinvigorates the different members of the body so that the impurities and waste matters can pass off of nature intended. Then the discharge ceases, the sore scabs over, new flesh is formed, and the place heals permanently. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice you need without charge.

THE ARMY CANTEN.

A courageous member of Congress from Philadelphia has introduced a bill to restore the army canteen, and it is now before the House Military Committee. The official reports of army officers and that of the Secretary of War discloses the appalling effects that have followed the abolition of the canteen. Disease and degeneration appear among the enlisted men at every post. They resort to the pitfalls that sprang up when the canteen was abolished, and drink and other vices have demoralized by the debauchery that follows. Discipline suffers, and the whole service is injured.

In the canteen the men had the use of beer and light wines, with such food refreshments as they needed to eke out the army ration. But that was not all. The canteen was the enlisted man's post club. Its profits provided a library and reading-room and the recreation of games. Man is a social being, and that of the Secretary of War discloses the appalling effects that have followed the abolition of the canteen. Disease and degeneration appear among the enlisted men at every post. They resort to the pitfalls that sprang up when the canteen was abolished, and drink and other vices have demoralized by the debauchery that follows. Discipline suffers, and the whole service is injured.

What would the enemies of the canteen have the soldier do? In his bar-acks there are no means of amusement, no change even to insure his mind. He has no post club, no place in which he can strengthen the weak places in his education. He must be an exceptional man if he does not recklessly seek a break in the monotony by means that finally destroy his moral and physical health. He will not occupy his mind reading tracts upon the dangers of alcohol and tobacco, nor will he satisfy himself in the perusal of pious tracts. Many think, however, that he should and such occupation is sufficient to satisfy his social needs.
It was believed by the good and well-meaning people who carried on the anti-canteen crusade that they would be able to turn the army into a great and pure camp, where tracts and hymns would fill in the giddy round of recreation.

They were wrong. The medical statistics and reports of the officers show how wrong they were. We do not expect that any of the preponderance of testimony which condemns them. They will go up like an army with banners against the bill to restore the canteen.
They will be supported by the vicious element that profits out of the sale of bad whisky in the deadfalls that fringe every army post. Cunning vice and simple-minded virtue will go hand in hand to beat the Philadelphia bill.
Vice will know just what it is doing and virtue will be deaf and blind to the sure consequences.

But against this the common sense of the country should assert itself.
San Francisco has a great army post within its borders. Every citizen of this city who has taken the trouble to observe, knows that when there was a post canteen the soldiers were immeasurably better than it has been since.
We are asked that the same testimony is given by citizens at every army post in the country.
There are many clubs, club again, where they are in the association of gentlemen. Give them their library and reading-room and recreation again. Give them the light wines and beer and satisfy their appetite for the social glass. Keep them away from the distilled liquors that are poisoned to increase the profits of their sale.

The chairman of the military committee has been a soldier and many of its members have seen military service. They know the entire impracticable and impossible are the expectations of the people who fight the canteen on prohibition principles. They know he must have the opportunity for reasonable indulgence. They know that the canteen as a post club for the enlisted men will be a boon to many that do not drink at all. It will improve their surroundings by making better men of their fellow soldiers.

ORCHESTRA IS ON THE "BOOM"

STUDENT ORGANIZATION THAT HAS DOUBLED IN MEMBERSHIP.

BERKELEY, March 5.—Affairs in the University Student Orchestra are progressing satisfactorily. The membership has been increased to almost double what it was last year and the character of the music played has been entirely changed. Only a mention of the selections that are now being worked on is necessary to illustrate this fact: Mozart's overtures, "Don Juan" and "Hochzeit des Figaro," Mendelssohn's First Symphony, Haydn's Eleventh Symphony and Schubert's "Rosamond" overtures. The membership is now forty-five with prospects of immediate increase, there is still room for quite a few more amateur musicians, and those desiring to join have been invited to come to the rehearsal, which are held every Monday evening at Heist

Hall at 7 30 p. m. It should be noted this applies to both men and women, students or otherwise. The orchestra is being directed by Dr. J. Fred Wolfe of the Department of Music.

BELT BUCKLES WITHOUT BELTS.
Gold and jewel belt buckles are among the smart things to fetch afternoon and evening gowns. They are rather incongruous in a way in that no belt is worn. The buckle fastenings at the end of a pointed bodice and it may be handsome enough to wear occasionally as a neck-piece or pendant. Those of the beautiful Florentine enamel, set with real stones, are seen with colored gowns while the deep yellow gold is worn with either black or white. —New York Press

BOSTON'S BARBER REGULATIONS

Board of Health Orders Sterilization Of All That Barbers Use On Customers.
A special dispatch from Boston, May 5, 1906, to the New York Sun, gives new regulations of the Boston Board of Health as to barber shops: "Mugs, shaving brushes and razors shall be sterilized after each separate use thereof. A separate, clean towel shall be used for each person. Material to stop the flow of blood shall be used only in powdered form, and applied on a towel. Powder puffs are prohibited. Wherever Newbro's 'Harpley' is used for face or scalp after shaving or hair cutting, there is no danger of infection, as it is antiseptic, and kills the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to The Herpley Company, Detroit, Mich.

PREACHERS ON FIGHTS LEGALIZED MURDER?

San Francisco Pastors Say That Game Is Brutal.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Rev. George W. White, pastor of Central Methodist Episcopal Church, while treating the subject of "Profanity" from his pulpit last evening, took occasion to speak of the fatal termination of the recent prize fight. "I am glad," he said, "there are to be found people who are willing to stand against profanity. I am delighted, too, that our District Attorney has taken the strong attitude he has against gambling devices and gambling places, and that leads to the cleansing of the city should be upheld."

"A young man's life was cruelly beaten out the other evening in this city under the pretext of an exhibition of physical strength and endurance, whereas it was simply an exhibition of brutality. Read the names of those present at these degrading shows and we find there public officials and representative citizens. It is appalling that people living in one of the most beautiful countries of the world can find pleasure in such inhuman displays. Indeed, it may be said of this city, 'every prospect pleases only man's vile.' We are told that the brutal slogging matches are conducted under the requirements of law, and we turn to the code to find that the law prohibits any person promoting a prize fight, but it is behind the scenes, and reading further on we learn that the law turns around and kicks down all the first provisions built up for corporations and clubs may do what is regarded to be brutal, heinous and criminal in the individual."

"SPRINTERS' CUNNING HAND."
The cunning hand of the fight promoter can be seen behind the effort to hoodwink the people into security regarding the prize ring. A club can do what the person cannot, under the provision that there shall be only a limited number of rounds, but no limit is expressed. It is considered all right, no matter how many fights are pulled off, or how many are killed. The grief-stricken family and heart-broken friends are to be sacrificed to the bestiality of the lovers of the prize ring. It is estimated that 20,000 people are present at these brutal exhibitions. One would think we were living in the midst of ancient Rome in place of the civilization of the twentieth century."

"These prize fights are given under the pretense of exhibitions of physical training, but it is for the money that can be gotten out of them, not the sport, the skill, the science displayed. They are bloodthirsty shows and everyone who witnesses them develops the tastes of a bruiser, and becomes a menace to the best interests of the community in which he otherwise might have become a good law-abiding citizen."

Again referring to the question of prize fighting, the speaker said he had heard the vilest profanity uttered by women and he had drinking and saloons responsible.

Rev. F. M. Larkin's sermon at Grace Methodist Episcopal Church dealt most bitterly with the crime of the prize ring.

CAN MURDER BE LEGALIZED.
He said that a brutal murder has been committed within our city no one would attempt to deny. The enormity of the crime is increased by the fact that it follows so soon upon one of like nature a short time ago. The speaker said that he had been reported as coming from some of our public officials call for serious consideration and the arousing of public indignation. The most pernicious as well as dangerous sentiment in reference to the crime has apparently been accepted by a large number of our law-abiding citizens. This is of more importance to the welfare of the city than the single murder. It is that many people suppose that crime may be legalized. Nothing can be farther from the fact than to suppose the crime may be made legal. That which is recognized to be crime can and no standing in fundamental law, and any statute that would pretend to legalize it would be declared null and void. Yet a man has been murdered within our city under the supervision of the police force, in the name of sport. And it is assumed that no one will be punished because the killing occurred according to certain prescribed rules, to which all parties concerned had agreed. The acceptance of such sentiment reveals a shockingly low condition of moral sentiment and lamentable ignorance.

In the first place crime was not intended to be legalized, nor could it be legalized, by State or city statute. No law can make crime permissible, and any law which attempts it will never stand the review of the Supreme Court of the land.

The law under which the guilty parties of this murder seek to find release does not, and does not pretend to, permit the guilty to escape the penalty of the folly of attempting to show it. They know, however, that they were carrying on a prize fight under the assumed name of a boxing match. They knew and knew that it was not a boxing match, and when all the parties concerned consented to the prize fight, they knew or ought to have known that it was an illegal procedure, and if they did not know the law says in such cases, ignorance excuses no one. The fight was prepared and arranged for the "knockout" of one of the parties. Physicians were on hand to avoid the possibility of death. All the parties knew that the law was a possibility in the case, and that if it occurred the guilty parties ought not to be permitted to escape the penalties of the law.

It is to be hoped that those who are responsible will leave no stone unturned to bring all the guilty parties to justice, and will make every reasonable effort to secure conviction and punishment of all parties concerned. We trust that no officers of the law will be guilty of the imbecility of law, and the technicalities of the formulas of the law at the sacrifice of the public welfare. Murder has been committed, the responsible parties are known, and they should be punished according to the law of the country.

Sensational Suicide During
Investigation of a Scandal.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 5.—During a meeting yesterday of the Father Gapon organization, which was investigating the scandal involving charges of accepting money from the government, an accused member dramatically committed suicide.

With the recent disappearance of Matushensky, the assistant of Father Gapon, who was charged with the embezzlement of $10,000 belonging to the organization, it was discovered that the moderate labor organization which Gapon established after the Russian Emperor's manifesto of October 17 last was subsidized by the government, which supplied funds for the rent of clubhouses and for literature. The revelation was made by the president of the Father Gapon organization, who claimed that $10,000 of the funds furnished through former Minister of Commerce Timiriazoff had not reached the treasury of the moderate party. When Matushensky was arrested at Saratoff February 24th it was said that he would be taken to St. Petersburg for trial and the proceedings against him were expected to be sensational on account of his relations with Premier Witte and former Minister of Commerce Timiriazoff and other prominent persons.

The expectation in some quarters that the anniversary of the emancipation of the serfs yesterday would be commemorated by an agrarian strike was not fulfilled. All the newspapers, however, seized the occasion to discuss the present question in view of the general anticipation of extensive agrarian troubles in the spring, unanimously agreeing that only legal satisfaction of the land hunger of the muliks will prevent an awful jacquerie. The conservative journals draw a striking parallel of riots which followed the proclamation of civic liberty and the events that succeeded Emperor
